to testify to same.

3. On January 9, 2014, multiple hearings will occur in Department 29 regarding dismissal and summary judgment over issues related to the super priority lien and whether collection costs can be included in a homeowners' association's lien and whether collection agencies are violating laws related thereto.
4. This Counsel represents multiple clients whose interests will be affected by this Court's ruling.
5. For the reasons cited in this Motion, the proposed friends of the court wish to file this Amicus Brief and appear at the hearings to apprise the Court of facts and law which may be crucial to this Court's decision in the matter.
6. Therefore, Plaintiff requests the Court sign the Order Shortening Time to allow the proposed friends of the court's MOTION FOR LEAVE TO FILE AMICUS CURIAE BRIEF ON ORDER SHORTENING TIME & AMICUS CURIAE BRIEF to be heard on January 9, 2014, which is the same date as the hearing the parties' competing Motions.

FURTHER AFFIANT SAYETH NAUGHT.

1 MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

2 I.

3 Factual & Procedural Summary

4 Prem Investments, LLC., through its counsel, Adams Law Group, Ltd., filed a Petition for 5 Advisory Opinion with the Nevada Department of Business and Industry in the summer of 2010 (Ex.
6 1). The Nevada Department of Business and Industry administers both the Nevada Financial 7 Institutions Division ("FID") (which licenses and regulates collection agencies) and the Nevada Real 8 Estate Division ("NRED") (which regulates common interest communities). The nature of the 9 Petition was to seek an advisory opinion and/or declaratory order on the meaning and scope of NRS 10 116.3116. NRS 116.3116 is a statute which creates a statutory lien on a homeowner's property for 11 all assessments, fines and fees owed by that homeowner to his homeowners' association. The statute 12 also states that the lien is extinguished by the foreclosure of the first mortgage lender with the 13 exception of a limited portion of the lien. That limited portion has been dubbed the "super priority 14 lien" and is capped at a figure equaling 9 months of a homeowners' association assessments plus
15 certain external repair costs. Thus, a bank or investor who buys at auction takes the property subject 16 to the limited "super priority lien."

18 Prem Investments, LLC., was one such investor. Thus, Prem Investments, LLC., had an 19 interest in having the State of Nevada issue an advisory opinion or declaratory order on the 20 definition, breadth and scope of NRS 116.3116. It should be noted that in 2010 Prem Investments, 21 LLC was not a party in any action before the District Court, or any administrative agency arbitration
22 proceeding concerning NRS 116.3116, and, therefore, had an absolute legal right under NAC
23 232.040 to request the advisory opinion and declaratory order. Prem Investments, LLC was owned 24 by a number of membership holders, including attorney Puoy Premsrut.

25 Defendants are debt collectors who collect the past due assessments owed to homeowners' 26 associations by delinquent homeowners ("Defendants" or "Debt Collectors"). They also collect the 27 "super priority lien" amounts from banks, investors and government supported agencies like Fannie 28

1 Mae and Freddie Mac who take title to properties at foreclosure auctions. For years, Defendants
2 have been violating NRS 116.3116 by drastically overcharging banks, investors and government 3 supported agencies for collection fees which far exceed the super priority lien amount.

4 A. Arbitration

5 In 2010, Adams Law Group, Ltd., was retained by a group of investors (not Prem
6 Investments, LLC) to institute litigation against the Debt Collectors for their unlawful collection
7 practices. An arbitration (which has been stayed pending Supreme Court review of a procedural 8 issue) ensued. In the arbitration, it was the position of the Debt Collectors that NRS 116.3116(2)
9 permits the addition of collection fees over and above the super priority lien. It was the position of 10 the investors that consistent with the plain language of the statute, the super priority lien is capped 11 at 9 months of association assessments (plus repair costs) and cannot be exceeded. In response to 12 a summary judgment motion on the meaning of NRS 116.3116(2), on October 28, 2010, Real Estate 13 Division Arbitrator, Persi Mishel, ruled that the investors were correct. The super priority lien is 14 capped at 9 months of assessments. Therefore, after foreclosure, the collection of any amounts over 15 and above the super priority lien is inconsistent with NRS 116.3116(2). The Arbitrator's ruling in 16 favor of the investors on their declaratory relief claim effectively adjudicated the fundamental issue 17 in the entire arbitration.

19 B. The FID Declaratory Order and NRED's Advisory Opinion

20 In November of 2010, (about 5 months after Prem Investments, LLC had filed its Petition 21 for Declaratory Order and Advisory Opinion with the Nevada Department of Business and Industry), 22 the Nevada Financial Institutions Division responded to Prem Investments, LLC's Petition. The 23 Financial Institutions Division issued a Declaratory Order and Advisory Opinion which was 24 consistent with the position that the super priority was capped at a figure equaling 9 months of 25 assessments (Ex. 2). The Financial Institutions Division ordered its licensees to limit their collection 26 fees to an amount consistent with Nevada law.

27 In December of 2010, certain of the Debt Collectors instituted litigation against the FID to 28

1 enjoin it from enforcing its Declaratory Order. Judge Johnson granted the Debt Collectors' Motion
2 for Preliminary Injunction and ruled that the FID did not have the jurisdiction to interpret NRS 116
3 in the regulation of its own licensees. After an appeal was heard, the Nevada Supreme Court issued 4 its opinion in August of 2012 wherein the Court ruled that the FID did not have jurisdiction to 5 interpret NRS 116, but the CCICCH and NRED did:

6 The language of this provision [NRS 116.615] is clear that the 7 CCICCH and the Real Estate Division are responsible for regulating 8 and administering the chapter. There is no provision granting any 9 other commission or department the authority to regulate or interpret 10 the language of the chapter. NRS Chapter 116 also addresses the 11 issuance of advisory opinions, stating that "[t]he [Real Estate] Division shall provide by regulation for the filing and prompt disposition of petitions for declaratory orders and advisory opinions as to the applicability or interpretation of: (a) [a]ny provision of this chapter or chapter 116A or 116B of NRS." NRS 116.623(1)(a).

12 The language of NRS 116.615 and NRS 116.623 is clear and 13 unambiguous. Thus, we apply a plain reading. See Westpark Owners' 14 Ass'n v. Dist. Ct., 123 Nev. 349, 357, 167 P.3d 421, 427 (2007). We 15 will also read NRS Chapter 116 and NRS Chapter 649 in a way that 16 harmonizes them as a whole. Southern Nev. Homebuilders v. Clark 17 County, 121 Nev. 446, 449, 117 P.3d 171, 173 (2005). Based on a plain, harmonized reading of these statutes, the responsibility of determining which fees may be charged, the maximum amount of such fees, and whether they maintain a priority, rests with the Real Estate Division and the CCICCH.

18 State, Dep't of Bus. & Indus., Fin. Institutions Div. v. Nevada Ass'n
19 Servs., Inc., 294 P.3d 1223, 1227 (Nev. 2012)

20 In November of 2012, this Counsel was contacted by Director Terry Johnson of the Nevada
21 Department of Business and Industry via email. He stated:

22 In light of the Court's ruling earlier this year in the matter of State of 23 Nevada, Financial Institutions Div. vs. Nevada Assn. Services, et al., 24 it appears the appropriate entity to render the requested opinion would be the Real Estate Division of the Department of Business & Industry.

25 Accordingly, I recently met with representatives of the Real Estate 26 Division and their legal counsel to discuss the various advisory 27 opinion requests that had been submitted, including yours, regarding 28 the super priority lien. The determination was made that the Real Estate Division would issue an advisory opinion responsive to the questions presented in the various opinion requests. Please be advised that this advisory opinion should be finalized within the next 30-45

1 days.

2 Thanks,

5 (Ex. 3)

6 In December of 2012, Adv. Op. 13-01 was published by the Nevada Real Estate Division.
7 In short, almost 2 ½ years after Prem Investments, LLC., filed its Petition for Advisory Opinion with 8 the Nevada Department of Business and Industry, the Nevada Real Estate Division responded to the 9 Petition (Ex. 4). Thus, contrary to the Debt Collectors' allegation that NRED's Advisory Opinion
10 was "sua sponte," it was, in fact, in response to Prem Investments' Petition.

11 C. The Investors' Litigations and Court Rulings

12 In the last several years, purchasers of homes at first mortgage foreclosure auctions have 13 instituted declaratory relief actions requesting from the court the meaning of NRS 116.3116(2), i.e., 14 is there a cap on the super priority lien of a figure equaling 9 months of assessments (plus certain 15 repair costs). At least 8 District Courts¹ have declared that NRS 116.3116(2) calls for such a cap.
16 This Counsel has argued 7 of those 8 cases. No district court (save Judge Jackie Glass in 2006) have 17 ruled differently. In the 7 cases argued by this Counsel, the concept of whether or not "collection 18 costs" could be included in a homeowners' association lien was never directly at issue. It was not 19 at issue because in every such case, the foreclosed homeowner was at least 9 months delinquent in 20 his assessments by the time the foreclosure investor purchased the property. Therefore, whether 21 collection costs could be included in the prioritized portion of the lien simply was not important 22 because in each such case, the 9 month assessment cap was always hit by the delinquent assessments
23 alone. The issue in these cases was whether or not there was a cap to the super priority lien of a

26 ¹ Judge Denton (Case No. A647850,) Judge Gonzalez (Case No. A636948,) Judge Scann
27 (Case No. A651107,) Judge Alf (Case No. A666569,) Judge Barker (Case No. A663304,) Judge
28 Silver (Case No. 658044,) Judge Sturman (Case No. A680828,) Judge Berry (Case No. CV12-02254).

1 figure equaling 9 months of assessments, no matter what was included in the lien.

2 Regardless, save one, the orders of the district courts have never stated that “costs of 3 collection” can be included in a homeowners’ association lien. Instead the language of the orders 4 mirrored NRS 116.3116’s language, that, “any penalties, fees, charges, late charges, fines and 5 interest charged pursuant to paragraphs (j) to (n), inclusive, of subsection 1 of NRS 116.3102 are 6 enforceable as assessments under this section.” For example:

- 7 1. The Wingbrook Order - “While assessments, penalties, fees, charges, late charges,
8 fines and interest may be included within the Assessment Cap Figure, in no
9 event can the total amount of the Assessment Cap Figure exceed an amount equaling
10 9 times the homeowners’ association’s monthly assessment amount....” (Ex. 5 11 Wingbrook Order);
- 12 2. The Ikon Order - “Unless an association’s declaration otherwise provides, any 13 penalties, fees, charges, late charges, fines and interest charged pursuant to NRS 14 116.3102(1) (j) to (n), inclusive, are enforceable in the same manner as 15 assessments are enforceable under NRS §116.3116. Thus, while such penalties, 16 fees, charges, late charges, fines and interest are not actual “assessments,” they may 17 be enforced in the same manner as assessments are enforced, i.e., by inclusion in the 18 association’s General Statutory Lien against the unit.” (Ex. 6, Ikon Order)
- 19 3. The Aliante Order - “Thus, while assessments, penalties, fees, charges, late 20 charges, fines and interest may be included within the Super Priority Lien, in 21 no event can the total amount of the Super Priority Lien exceed an amount equaling
22 9 months of the Defendant’s regular monthly assessment amount....” (Ex. 7, Aliante 23 Order).

25 In each such case, the language of the orders mirrored the language of NRS 116.3116. The 26 phrase “costs of collecting,” with its own statutory definition under NRS 116.310313, was never 27 included in the Wingbrook, Ikon or Aliante orders. While the law allows a homeowners’ association 28

1 to charge such "costs of collecting" to the delinquent homeowner, there is no statutory authority for 2 a homeowners' association to include those "costs of collecting" in the lien. Thus, the Plaintiffs have 3 requested a declaration from this Court that "costs of collecting" under NRS 116.310313 are not 4 included in the lien described in NRS 116.3116. Conspicuously, the phrase "costs of collecting" as 5 defined by NRS 116.310313 appears nowhere in NRS 116.3116. In fact, NRS 116.3116 makes 6 specific reference only to other particular costs as listed in NRS 116.3102, not to any "costs of 7 collecting" listed in NRS 116.310313. This, one must presume, was an intentional act on the part
8 of the legislature to limit the constituent elements of the lien to that which is clearly cited in NRS
9 116.3116, i.e., assessments, plus those costs as particularly listed in NRS 116.3102. In short, if the 10 legislature wanted to include "costs of collecting" in the lien, it would have said so in NRS 11 116.3116.

12 The State of Nevada now requests this Court issue a declaratory judgment and injunctive 13 relief on the issues of whether the super priority lien is capped and whether costs of collecting can 14 be included within a homeowners' association's lien (in essence, a declaration of the meaning of 15 NRS 116.3116). The Court, through the numerous motions filed by the parties, has been asked to 16 make several determinations related thereto. This amicus brief concerns itself with the following 17 issues:

- 18 1. Does NRED have standing to seek a declaratory judgment over the meaning of NRS 19 116.3116 (a statute within its jurisdiction)?
- 20 2. Are the CCICCH and Nevada homeowners associations "indispensable" parties in 21 this action pursuant to NRCP 19, and if so, what should the Court do?
- 22 3. Does the law require that the CCICCH make a determination whether a violation has 23 occurred by a collection agency before Plaintiffs can file this action for declaratory 24 relief and injunctive relief?
- 25 4. Does the fact that Plaintiffs and Defendants disagree over the meaning of a law mean 26 that Defendants could not have violated it?
- 27
- 28

1 questions. In re Marriage Cases, 43 Cal. 4th 757, 183 P.3d 384 (2008).

2 Especially in this case, where Defendants have called into question the very Petition for 3 Advisory Opinion which this Counsel drafted and filed on behalf of one of the listed friends of the 4 court, i.e., the very Petition which Defendants claim to be non-existent, this brief can provide vital 5 procedural and factual background to the Court which may be critical so the Court can make an 6 informed decision as to the merits of each parties' position. Further, several of the friends of the 7 court were parties to the very cases in which Defendants incorrectly claim that there exist orders
8 which state that "costs of collecting" could be included in the lien. Input can be given to the Court 9 as to what actually was at issue and what was argued.

10 2. NRED HAS STANDING TO SEEK A DECLARATORY JUDGMENT AND INJUNCTIVE RELIEF
11 AGAINST ANYONE REGARDING THE CONSTRUCTION OF A LAW

12 In its Motion to Dismiss, Defendants proclaim that, "...only the FID, as governing authority 13 of Defendants, is entitled to seek declaratory relief against Defendants." (Nevada Association 14 Services ("NAS") Motion to Dismiss, 6:17-18). Certainly the FID is one governmental agency which 15 may do so,² but why cannot any other governmental agency seek a declaratory judgment regarding 16 the construction of a law which happens to affect Nevada limited liability companies such as 17 Defendants? Does not the Nevada Declaratory Relief Act grant standing to any interested party who 18 seeks a determination of the construction of a law and does it not also grant such a party the right to 19 obtain a declaration of rights and legal status thereunder? Is NRED not an interested party to this 20 action? After all, it is a real estate statute, NRS 116.3116, over which NRED seeks the judicial 21 declaration. Are the Debt Collectors also not interested parties to this action? Is it not they who 22 dispute NRED's Advisory Opinion regarding NRS 116.3116 and is it not they who seek their own 23 ruling regarding NRS 116.3116 from this Court?

25 The Nevada Declaratory Relief Act (NRS 30.040) states the following:

26 Any person interested under a deed, written contract or other writings 27 constituting a contract, or whose rights, status or other legal relations

28 ² See NRS 648.400

1 are affected by a statute, municipal ordinance, contract or franchise,
2 may have determined any question of construction or validity arising 3 under the instrument, statute, ordinance, contract or franchise and 4 obtain a declaration of rights, status or other legal relations
5 thereunder.

6 NRED seeks a declaration that one of the statutes under its jurisdiction has been violated.³
7 It clearly has a legal interest in doing so. As the Nevada Supreme Court has noted, "The provisions
8 of this chapter [NRS 116] must be administered by the [Real Estate] Division, subject to the 9 administrative supervision of the Director of the Department of Business and Industry." State, Dep't 10 of Bus. & Indus., Fin. Institutions Div. v. Nevada Ass'n Servs., Inc., 294 P.3d 1223, 1227 (Nev.
11 2012).

12 Thus, not only does NRED seek a declaratory ruling that Defendants have violated NRS
13 116.3116, but it must also be keenly noted that the Debt Collectors have moved for summary 14 judgment seeking their own ruling. What relief do they request? They request a determination that 15 they have not violated NRS 116.3116. The controversy has therefore been clearly cast. The 16 competing interests of the parties have been clearly defined. Can the Defendants honestly state there 17 is no controversy over the construction of a statute? Can they honestly argue that neither they, nor 18 NRED have an interest in that controversy? The Nevada Declaratory Relief Act governs this dispute 19 and it grants NRED standing to request that this Court grant declaratory relief, i.e., that it rule that 20 a statute under the NRED's jurisdiction has a particular meaning, and that certain acts of various

21 ³ 57. All Defendants' practice of including "costs of collecting" in the associations'
22 liens is in direct violation of NRS 116.3116(1).

23 58. All Defendants' practice of charging more than 9 times the monthly 24 assessment for common expenses (plus Abatement Costs) for the associations'
25 super priority liens is in direct violation of NRS 116.3116(2).

26 59. Defendants continue these practices even after the issuance of the NRED
27 Opinion in opposition of such practices.

28 60. Thus, a true and ripe controversy exists between Plaintiffs and Defendants as to the proper interpretation of NRS 116.3116. (Complaint at ¶57 and 58).

1 parties are not in conformance thereof.

2 By a mere review of the pleadings and briefs in this action it is clear that the parties hold 3 differing views of the law and request relief in conformity with their views. As the Nevada Supreme 4 Court in Kress v. Corey has held:

5 'The requisite precedent facts or conditions which the courts generally 6 hold must exist in order that declaratory relief may be obtained may 7 be summarized as follows: (1) there must exist a justiciable 8 controversy; that is to say, a controversy in which a claim of right is 9 asserted against one who has an interest in contesting it; (2) the 10 controversy must be between persons whose interests are adverse; (3) the party seeking declaratory relief must have a legal interest in the controversy, that is to say, a legally protectible interest; and (4) the issue involved in the controversy must be ripe for judicial determination. Kress v. Corey 65 Nev. 1, 189 P.2d 352 (1948).

11 Thus, NRED must possess the following attributes under Nevada law to proceed in this 12 action:

- 13 1. It must have a right to assert that NRS 116.3116 caps the super priority lien amount 14 and that no collection fees and costs may be included in a homeowners' associations' 15 lien. However, the Supreme Court of Nevada has already ruled that NRED has 16 this authority. It is, in fact, responsible for the administration of NRS 116.3116.
17 See State, Dep't of Bus. & Indus., Fin. Institutions Div. v. Nevada Ass'n Servs., Inc., 18 294 P.3d 1223, 1227 (Nev. 2012).
- 19 2. The Debt Collectors against whom NRED's right is asserted has an interest in 20 contesting it. This fact is apparent as the Debt Collectors assert this right in 21 their Motion for Summary Judgment.
- 22 3. NRED's interest in the determination that NRS 116.3116 caps the super priority lien 23 amount and that no collection fees and costs may be included in a homeowners'
24 associations' lien is diverse from the Debt Collectors' interest in contesting such a 25 determination. This fact is obvious by a simple review of NRED's Motion for 26 Summary Judgment and the Debt Collectors' Motion for Summary Judgment
27 which ask for exactly opposite rulings from this Court;
28

1 4. NRED has a legal interest in this Court's declaration that NRS 116.3116 caps the 2 super priority lien amount and that no collection fees and costs may be included in 3 a homeowners' associations' lien is diverse from the Debt Collectors' interest in 4 contesting such a determination. As NRED is the agency tasked with 5 interpretation, administration and regulation of NRS 116, there is no dispute
6 NRED has a legal interest as further supported by the Nevada Supreme Court.

7 5. The issue as announced above is ripe for judicial determination. This factor needs 8 little discussion as hundreds of lawsuits have been filed to date essentially seeking 9 determinations which are requested by the parties to this Court.

10 Further, and even more fundamentally, NRED is lawfully imbued with statutory powers to 11 bring suit against ANY PERSON who violates NRS Chapter 116. Any person most certainly means 12 any Debt Collector. For example, NRS 116.795 clearly states:

13 1. If the Commission or the Division has reasonable cause to believe, 14 based on evidence satisfactory to it, that any person violated or is 15 about to violate any provision of this chapter, any regulation adopted 16 pursuant thereto or any order, decision, demand or requirement of the 17 Commission or Division or a hearing panel, the Commission or the 18 Division may bring an action in the district court for the county in 19 which the person resides or, if the person does not reside in this State, 20 in any court of competent jurisdiction within or outside this State, to 21 restrain or enjoin that person from engaging in or continuing to 22 commit the violations or from doing any act in furtherance of the 23 violations.

24 In short, if NRED does not have standing to bring suit and seek a declaratory ruling over the 25 construction of one of its own real estate statutes, who does? Of course, the Supreme Court has 26 already answered this question as follows, "... the [Real Estate] Division may do all things necessary 27 and convenient to carry out the provisions of this chapter...." State, Dep't of Bus. & Indus., Fin.
28 Institutions Div. v. Nevada Ass'n Servs., Inc., 294 P.3d 1223, 1227 (Nev. 2012). Suing anyone, including Debt Collectors, for violations of NRS 116.3116 and seeking declaratory and injunctive relief would certainly appear to be necessary and convenient to carry out the provisions of NRS 116.

1 3. UNDER NRCP 19(A), NEITHER THE CCICCH NOR HOMEOWNERS ASSOCIATIONS ARE 2 INDISPENSABLE PARTIES AS COMPLETE RELIEF MAY BE ACCORDED TO THE CURRENT
3 PARTIES WITHOUT A JOINDER

4 NRCP 19(a) describes only two situations where a person must be joined if feasible.
5 Provided the joinder will not deprive the Court of jurisdiction, the first of the two situations is as 6 follows, "(1) in the person's absence complete relief cannot be accorded among those already 7 parties."

8 Therefore, the first question the Court must answer is if the CCICCH and the homeowners
9 associations are not joined, will both Plaintiffs and Defendants obtain complete relief by the Court's 10 determination of the issues contained in the Complaint? In other words, will NRED, the FID and 11 the Department of Business and Industry get what they want against the Debt Collectors (i.e., what 12 they asked for in the Complaint) if the Court rules that the super priority lien is capped, or that 13 collection costs cannot be included in a lien? The answer is yes. What the Plaintiffs request in the 14 present action is a declaration that the Defendants' practice of including "costs of collecting" in the 15 associations' liens is in direct violation of NRS 116.3116(1) and that Defendants' practice of charging 16 more than 9 times the monthly assessment for common expenses (plus Abatement Costs) for the 17 associations' super priority liens is also in direct violation of NRS 116.3116(2). (See ¶57 and 58 of 18 the Complaint). They also seek injunctive relief against the Debt Collectors to stop them from 19 violating the law. If the Court rules in conformity to the State's requested relief, the State gets what 20 it wants, i.e., a way to stop the Defendants from violating the law. Complete relief is therefore 21 accorded to the Plaintiffs without the joinder of any additional parties.

22 Conversely, if the Debt Collectors win and the Court declares that the super priority lien in 23 not capped or that collection costs can be included within the lien, the Defendants get what they 24 want, i.e., a judicial determination that they do not violate NRS 116.3116 and that they may continue 25 with their collection activities. Complete relief is therefore accorded to the Defendants without 26 joinder of any additional parties. The fact that the CCICCH or the homeowners associations may 27 claim an interest in how this litigation comes out, does not mean that complete relief cannot be 28

1 accorded to those already parties without a joinder. In short, complete relief can be accorded the 2 current parties without the necessity of the joinder of anyone.

3 4. NEITHER THE CCICCH NOR THE HOMEOWNERS ASSOCIATIONS HAVE CLAIMED AN 4 INTEREST IN THIS LITIGATION

5 The second of the two situations where joinder is necessary is as follows:

6 (2) the person claims an interest relating to the subject of the action 7 and is so situated that the disposition of the action in the person's 8 absence may (i) as a practical matter impair or impede the person's 9 ability to protect that interest or (ii) leave any of the persons already 10 parties subject to a substantial risk of incurring double, multiple, or 11 otherwise inconsistent obligations by reason of the claimed interest.

12 It must be immediately noted that no person, commission or homeowners' association has yet
13 claimed an interest relating to the subject of this action. Thus, by the plain language of NRCP 19 14 (a)(2), until such a "claim of interest" is made by a non-party, the issue of joinder is not ripe for 15 determination.

16 However, if this Court rules that homeowners associations are indispensable parties, then so
17 too are Nevada homeowners. The Defendants argue that homeowners associations and the CCICCH
18 are "indispensable" parties to this action. Why Defendants did not also argue that Nevada 19 homeowners are also "indispensable" parties to this action is not readily perceived. In fact, it is the 20 homeowners who actually pay the collection costs which are the subject of this action. It is the 21 homeowners who pay the excessive super priority lien costs. If the Court rules that collection costs
22 can be included in a lien or that the super priority lien is not capped at 9 months of assessments, it
23 is the homeowners' lien which is affected. It is the Nevada homeowners whose rights are implicated 24 and whose wallets are lightened if the Court rules in favor of Defendants. Indeed, if there are any 25 indispensable parties to this action, the Nevada homeowner is one such party. In that regard, if the 26 Court determines that homeowners associations are "indispensable" parties, representative class 27 homeowners shall move to intervene in this action on a class-wide basis so that their rights may be 28 properly represented.

1 5. THE CCICCH IS NOT AN INDISPENSABLE PARTY

2 Under NRCp 19(a)(2), in order to be joined, the CCICCH must claim, "... an interest relating 3 to the subject of the action and is so situated that the disposition of the action in the person's absence
4 may (i) as a practical matter impair or impede the person's ability to protect that interest...." Not 5 only has the CCICCH not claimed an interest in this action, but it has no interest to protect.

6 Defendants argue that the CCICCH is a necessary party because it has published its own
7 advisory opinion which allegedly differs from NRED's. However, because the CCICCH's advisory 8 opinion was fugitive (with absolutely no statutory or regulatory authority,) it is of no force and effect.
9 Thus, the CCICCH can have no interest in a declaratory ruling that affects an advisory opinion which 10 it had no authority to publish in the first place. It is but a null document with no legal effect.

11 What governmental agencies can issue advisory opinions? The law is quite clear on this 12 issue.

13 1. The Division shall provide by regulation for the filing and prompt
14 disposition of petitions for declaratory orders and advisory opinions 15 as to the applicability or interpretation of:

16 (a) Any provision of this chapter or chapter 116A or 116B of NRS...

17 5. The Division shall:

18 (a) Respond to a petition filed pursuant to this section within 60 days 19 after the date on which the petition is submitted for consideration; and 20 (b) Upon issuing its declaratory order or advisory opinion, mail a 21 copy of the declaratory order or advisory opinion to the petitioner.

22 Nev. Rev. Stat. Ann. § 116.623 (West)

23 Conspicuously absent from NRS 116.623 is any reference to the CCICCH. In short, unlike 24 the clear authorization for the Real Estate Division to issue advisory opinions, Nevada has no statute 25 or regulation specifically authorizing the CCICCH to issue advisory opinions. That jurisdiction is 26 statutorily bestowed upon NRED. Of course NRED has issued its advisory opinion in the form of 27 Adv. Op. 13-01 declaring the super priority lien capped at 9 months of assessments and declaring 28 that no collection costs may be included in a homeowners' assessment lien. Pursuant to Nevada's

1 Supreme Court, this Court is to take "great deference" to agency interpretations of Nevada statutes
2 over which they have jurisdiction. (Imperial Palace v. State, Dep't Taxation, 108 Nev. 1060, 1067,
3 843 P.2d 813, 818 (1992); Dep't of Taxation v. Daimler Chrysler, 121 Nev. 541, 549, 119 P.3d 135, 4 139 (2005); Thomas v. City of N. Las Vegas, 122 Nev. 82, 101, 127 P.3d 1057, 1070 (2006) (citing 5 Chevron U.S.A. v. Not. Res. Def. Council, 467 U.S. 837 (1984)).

6 Thus the question is posed for the Court, if the CCICCH had no legal authority to publish an 7 advisory opinion, what legal effect is the Court to give such a document? The answer should be,
8 "none." In short, the CCICCH has no interest in this action as the very instrument over which it 9 could claim an interest is ineffectual as a matter of law.

10 6. DISMISSAL IS NOT THE PROPER REMEDY UNDER NRCP 19

11 If this Court determines that the Defendants are correct and that certain parties are 12 indispensable to this action, what is the remedy? At this early stage of the litigation, it is surely not 13 dismissal. The remedy is clearly defined in NRCP 19(a), "If the person has not been so joined, the 14 court shall order that the person be made a party. If the person should join as a plaintiff but refuses 15 to do so, the person may be made a defendant, or, in a proper case, an involuntary plaintiff." The 16 remedy is clear, the Court is to join the absent party, not dismiss the action.

17 7. THE CCICCH IS NOT THE ONLY ENTITY WHO CAN DETERMINE A VIOLATION OF NRS 116. THE DISTRICT COURT HAS SUCH JURISDICTION

18 Defendants have argued that only the CCICCH may declare a violation of NRS 116.3116.
19 Defendants argue the CCICCH has "exclusive" jurisdiction in this regard (i.e., to the exclusion of 20 a District Court). However, no such "exclusive" jurisdiction of the CCICCH can be found in any 21 statute, nor would such a statute be constitutional anyway. Defendants cite NRS 116.750 for its 22 novel proposition.

23 1. In carrying out the provisions of NRS 116.745 to 116.795, 24 inclusive, the Division and the Ombudsman have jurisdiction to 25 investigate and the Commission and each hearing panel has 26 jurisdiction to take appropriate action against any person who 27 commits a violation, including, without limitation:

28 (a) Any association and any officer, employee or agent of an

1 association.

2 Nev. Rev. Stat. Ann. 116.750 (West)

3 The word “exclusive” is not found in the statute. The statute merely states that the CCICCH has

4 jurisdiction to take appropriate action against any person who commits a violation. It certainly does

5 not state the District Court is divested of its jurisdiction to declare the meaning of laws or to issue

6 injunctive relief.

7 Moreover, as NRS 116.795 clearly states, “1. If the... Division has reasonable cause to 8 believe... that any person... is about to violate any provision of this chapter... the Division may bring

9 an action in the district court....” In this case, NRED claims it has reasonable cause to belief

10 Defendants are about to violate NRS 116.3116. It may, therefore, bring an action in the district

11 court. NRS 116.795's grant of litigation rights to NRED is not contingent upon any act of the 12 CCICCH. Such a condition precedent (as the finding of a violation against a person by the 13 CCICCH) simply does not exist in the statute. If such a condition precedent was the objective of the 14 legislature, it would have simply written it into NRS 116.795.

16 Regardless, the Nevada Legislature does not have the authority to divest the District Court

17 of jurisdiction of any kind. Unlike the United States Constitution which authorizes Congress to 18 determine the jurisdiction of the federal district courts (Art. III, Sec. 1 “The judicial power of the

19 United States, shall be vested in one Supreme Court, and in such inferior courts as the Congress may 20 from time to time ordain and establish.”)⁴ the jurisdiction of Nevada District Court is created not by

21 the legislature, but by the Nevada Constitution.⁵ Nevada’s legislative branch of government is only

22 ⁴ Such courts are known as “Article III” courts. These courts get their name from the fact that they

23 derive their power from Article III of the Constitution. These courts include (1) the U.S. District

24 Courts, (2) the U.S. Circuit Courts of Appeal, and (3) the U.S. Supreme Court. They also include two 25 special courts: (a) the U.S. Court of Claims and (b) the U.S. Court of International Trade.

26 ⁵ Indeed, this is a primary distinction between the United States Constitution and the constitutions

27 of many states. See for example, see Article 6, Section 10 of the California Constitution: “SEC. 10.

28 The Supreme Court, courts of appeal, superior courts, and their judges have original jurisdiction in habeas corpus proceedings. Those courts also have original jurisdiction in proceedings for extraordinary relief in the nature of mandamus, certiorari, and prohibition. The appellate division

1 empowered to determine the jurisdiction of the justice courts and family courts. All jurisdiction not
2 granted to the justice courts is constitutionally imbued in the District Court. In short, the District
3 Court has original jurisdiction over all matters not otherwise granted to the Justice Court and the 4 legislature may not pass laws otherwise divesting the District Court of subject matter jurisdiction:

5 Art. 6 Sec. 6. District Courts: Jurisdiction; referees; family court.

6 1. The District Courts in the several Judicial Districts of this 7 State have original jurisdiction in all cases excluded by law from 8 the original jurisdiction of justices' courts....

9 2. The legislature may provide by law for:

10 (a) Referees in district courts.

11 (b) The establishment of a family court as a division of any 12 district court and may prescribe its jurisdiction.

13 Other than laws defining the original jurisdiction of the justice courts or the jurisdiction of 14 the family courts, there can be no law passed by the Nevada legislature (which is constitutional)
15 which alters the original jurisdiction of the District Court. As the Nevada Supreme Court has noted, 16 "In Nevada, judicial power is derived directly from Article 6, Section 6(1) of the Nevada 17 Constitution, empowering judges with the authority to act and determine justiciable controversies."
18 Landreth v. Malik, 251 P.3d 163, 168 (Nev. 2011). "Inherent powers are derived from two sources:
19 the separation of powers doctrine and the judiciary's sheer existence by virtue of the judicial 20 functions expressly created under Nevada's Constitution." Halverson v. Hardcastle, 123 Nev. 245, 21 259, 163 P.3d 428, 438 (2007).

22 However, this Court presumes statutes are constitutional. Seres v. Lerner, 120 Nev. 928, 23 931, 102 P.3d 91, 93 (2004); Martinez v. Maruszczak, 123 Nev. 433, 168 P.3d 720 (2007). Thus, 24 if this Court is to presume NRS 116.750 is constitutional, it can decide that the CCICCH has

25 _____
26 of the superior court has original jurisdiction in proceedings for extraordinary relief in the nature of 27 mandamus, certiorari, and prohibition directed to the superior court in causes subject to its appellate 28 jurisdiction. Superior courts have original jurisdiction in all other causes."

1 jurisdiction to determine violations of NRS 116, but so too does this Court have the jurisdiction to 2 issue a declaratory ruling on NRS 116 and issue appropriate injunctive relief. Because NRS 116.750
3 does not grant "exclusive" jurisdiction to the CCICCH to determine violations of NRS 116, and 4 because if it did, such a statute would violate Article 6, Section 6 of the Nevada Constitution, this 5 Court can simply rule both CCICCH and the District Courts have concurrent jurisdiction to 6 determine violations of NRS 116.3116.

7 8. DEFENDANTS' CREATIVE "DISAGREEMENT OVER THE MEANING OF A LAW" ARGUMENT
8 IS NONSENSICAL. MISTAKE OF LAW IN NO DEFENSE TO THE VIOLATION OF A STATUTE

9 Despite at least 8 District Courts⁶ declaring that there is a cap on the super priority lien,
10 Defendants argue that there is a disagreement over the meaning of NRS 116.3116, and therefore, it 11 is impossible for Defendants to have violated it. They write, "However, disagreeing over the 12 meaning of a law does not constitute a "violation" of law." (NAS' Motion for Summary Judgment 13 at 4:7-8). It's a bit like arguing that when a murderer and the State of Nevada disagree over the 14 definition of homicide, a homicide could not have been committed even though the victim lay dead
15 with a bullet in his brain. Doubtless the district court would care little about the semantic dispute.
16 Either a law has been violated or it hasn't. Either the Debt Collectors demanded more for the super 17 priority lien than a figure equaling 9 months of assessments or they haven't. The fact that they don't 18 agree with what the statute clearly mandates is irrelevant. If no person could violate a statute over 19 which he disagreed with its meaning, anarchy would ensue in this nation of laws.

21 Defendants cites several cases (including an unpublished one) which absolutely do not stand 22 for the proposition that if the offending party disagrees over the interpretation of a statute, that the 23 statute cannot be violated. Defendants first cited case of Hale v. Touro Infirmary, 2004-0003 (La.
24 App. 4 Cir. 11/3/04), 886 So. 2d 1210, 1215 writ denied, 2005-0103 (La. 3/24/05), 896 So. 2d 1036, 25 actually stands for the proposition in support of Plaintiffs' case. The Hale court held that where there

26 ⁶ Judge Denton (Case No. A647850,) Judge Gonzalez (Case No. A636948,) Judge Scann
27 (Case No. A651107,) Judge Allf (Case No. A666569,) Judge Barker (Case No. A663304,) Judge
28 Silver (Case No. 658044,) Judge Sturman (Case No. A680828,) Judge Berry (Case No. CV12-02254).

1 is a violation of the law and a remedy is provided by statute, an action is properly brought before the 2 court.

3 We turn, therefore, to the principles of statutory construction and 4 interpretation. Article 9 of the Louisiana Civil Code advises: When 5 a law is clear and unambiguous and its application does not lead to 6 absurd consequences, the law shall be applied as written and no
7 further interpretation may be made in search of the intent of the 8 legislature. Thus, what is clear is that we are bound by the language
9 of La. R.S. 23:967, which provides that an employer may not retaliate 10 against an employee who has notified it of a workplace practice in 11 violation of law and who either refuses to participate in the practice 12 or who threatens to publicize the practice. Although there are strong 13 public policy arguments supporting Hale's interpretation of the 14 statute, we conclude that the very specific language referring to a 15 "violation of law" placed not once, but in several places throughout 16 the statute, manifests a desire by the Louisiana legislature to only 17 provide a remedy to employees of private employers whose practices 18 are in actual violation of law, and not simply practices disagreed with 19 or found distasteful by the employee. On its face, the Whistleblower
20 Statute supports actions by plaintiffs who are aware of a workplace 21 practice or act in which a violation of law actually occurred.

22 Hale v. Touro Infirmary, 2004-0003 (La. App. 4 Cir. 11/3/04), 886
23 So. 2d 1210, 1215 writ denied, 2005-0103 (La. 3/24/05), 896 So. 2d
24 1036

25 The Hale court clearly held that where a statute is being violated, and where the statute provides for 26 a remedy, an action may be brought by the party aggrieved by the violation. This Court is, "... bound 27 by the language of...." the statute.

28 Defendants also cite Hawkins v. Agric. Mktg. Serv., Dep't of Agric., U.S., 10 F.3d 1125, 1131-32 (5th Cir. 1993) for the proposition that a disagreement over a law means such a law cannot be violated. However, the Hawkins court held the exact opposite:

The basis of Hawkins' equal protection claim is that the presiding officer's and this court's rejection of the "rebuttable presumption" approach in interpreting § 499a(b)(9), an approach which was taken by the District of Columbia Circuit, in favor of the per se rule which we see as commanded by the plain language of the statute, violates his right to equal protection under the law. Thus, Hawkins suggests that a difference of opinion among the circuits or a circuit split violates such a right. Although we find Hawkins' argument a novel one, we disagree. A disagreement between circuits on the interpretation of a statute is a matter which either the Supreme Court or Congress should resolve; it does not violate the equal protection rights of the person subjected to the "more burdensome

1 interpretation.” United States v. Palacio, 4 F.3d 150, 154 (2d
2 Cir.1993). We thus find Hawkins' equal protection argument to be 3 without merit. Hawkins v. Agric. Mktg. Serv., Dep't of Agric., U.S., 4 10 F.3d 1125, 1131-32 (5th Cir. 1993)

5 Courts uniformly rule that where a mistake of law occurs by a party, such a mistake is absolutely no
6 defense to prosecution. For example:

7 A mistake of fact occurs when a person understands the facts to be 8 other than what they actually are, whereas a mistake of law occurs 9 when a person knows the true facts but is mistaken as to their legal 10 consequences... a mistake of law is no defense to a general intent 11 crime (ignorance of the law being no excuse).... People v. Robison, 12 A117923, 2008 WL 4726532 (Cal. Ct. App. Oct. 29, 2008)

13 * * *

14 It is immaterial that defendant supposedly believed it legal to refer 15 insureds to lawyers and doctors. Defendant's belief is a classic 16 mistake of law that provides no defense: “ignorance of a law is not a 17 defense to a charge of its violation.” (Hale v. Morgan, supra, 22
19 Meneses, 165 Cal. App. 4th 1648, 1663-64, 82 Cal. Rptr. 3d 100, 113
20 (2008)

21 * * *

22 “The general rule that ignorance of the law or a mistake of law is no 23 defense to criminal prosecution is deeply rooted in the American legal 24 system.” Cheek v. United States, 111 S.Ct. 604, 609 (1991)

25 * * *

26 “Of course, should Yellin have refused to answer in the mistaken but 27 good-faith belief that his rights had been violated, his mistake of law
28 would be no defense.” Yellin v. United States, 374 U.S. 109, 123, 83
S. Ct. 1828, 1837, 10 L. Ed. 2d 778 (1963)

“To the extent that appellants erroneously believe they were given amnesty, their mistake of law is no defense.” See United States v.
Ness, 652 F.2d 890, 893 (9th Cir.) (per curiam), cert. denied, 454
U.S. 1126, 102 S.Ct. 976, 71 L.Ed.2d 113 (1981). United States v.
Taylor, 693 F.2d 919, 924 (9th Cir. 1982)

Mistake of law is no defense to the violation of a statute. Indeed, the only disagreement over the super priority lien statute comes from Defendants who have made tens of millions of dollars from

1 routinely violating NRS 116.3116. However, there is no disagreement on the bench that NRS
2 116.3116 caps the super priority lien to a figure equaling 9 months of assessments. Defendants cited
3 decisions of Judge Williams and Judge Vega and the Hudson House case do not hold differently and 4 are soundly distinguishable and inapplicable to this case.

5 9. DEFENDANTS' CITED CASES OF ELKHORN, JP MORTGAGE AND HUDSON HOUSE ARE 6 MISPLACED AND COMPLETELY MISINTERPRETED IN DEFENDANTS' BRIEFS

7 NRS 116.3116(2) clearly states that a Super Priority Lien only exists "to the extent of" a 8 figure equaling 9 months of assessments based upon an association's periodic budget. However, in 9 the case where an association files a lawsuit to collect its unpaid assessments, or in the case where 10 a judicial (versus non-judicial) foreclosure occurs, NRS 116.3116(7) provides as follows, "A 11 judgment or decree in any action brought under this section must include costs and reasonable 12 attorney's fees for the prevailing party." In the Elkhorn and JP Morgan cases cited by Defendants, 13 there were lawsuits filed. Both courts, therefore, had a statutory foundation for granting fees and 14 costs in addition to the limited super priority lien.

15 In the Elkhorn case (A607051), Judge Vega answered two declaratory relief questions:

- 16 1. "Does the Association have the right to bring a judicial foreclosure action before a 17 court of proper jurisdiction in Nevada to satisfy the Association's special priority 18 portion of a lien for assessments authorised by NRS 116.3116 ("SPL")?" and 19 2. "If the Association has the right to bring a judicial foreclosure action to satisfy is SPL 20 in Nevada, are the non-attorney fees and costs of collection accrued by the 21 Association to bring the judicial foreclosure action considered a component part of 22 the Association's SPL?" (See Ex. 8).

23
24 Judge Vega answered both questions in the affirmative. This was the correct ruling because NRS
25 116.3116(7) provides that in the case where a lawsuit is filed and a judgment obtained, fees and costs
26 must be awarded. Such was the case in Elkhorn. Such is not the case here. 99.9% of the time the 27 homeowners' associations do not file judicial foreclosure actions nor do they sue the homeowner.
28 Instead, they choose to non-judicially foreclose on the homeowner. Therefore, since no judgment

1 or decree issues, NRS 116.3116(7) does not come into play and costs and fees cannot be obtained
2 in excess of the Super Priority Lien cap of 9 times an association's monthly assessment.

3 In the JP Morgan Chase case cited by Baker Place (A562687), it must first be noted that the 4 Order and Judgment repeatedly states that a collection agency (Nevada Association Services 5 ("NAS")) had a lien over the subject property. Indeed, the Court made a variety of rulings based 6 upon NAS' alleged "lien". However, no statute in the State of Nevada grants a collection agency
7 a lien over an individual's property. NRS 116.3116 grants only to a homeowners' association a 8 statutory lien, not to a collection agency. Thus, the ruling in JP Morgan should be immediately 9 discounted because the Court failed to understand that collection agencies do not have "super 10 priority" liens, only homeowners' associations do. Further, like the Elkhorn case, in the JP Morgan
11 case a lawsuit was filed and judgment obtained. Due to a lawsuit having been filed and a judgment 12 obtained, the Court utilized the Brunzell factors in awarding fees and costs to NAS. The Court 13 noted:

15 NAS's documented attorney's fees in the amount of $47,700.00 meet
16 the Brunzell v Golden Gate National Bank, 85 Nev. 345, 349 (1969)
17 factors. That based on the qualities of the advocate, the character of 18 the work to be done, the work actually performed by the lawyer, and the result obtained, the amount of attorney's fees and costs to be included as part of NAS' collection costs relating to its "super priority" lien amount are reasonable and necessary. (See Ex. 9).

19 Further, as in the Elkhorn case, because a judgment was rendered, the Court utilized NRS 20 116.3116(7) in awarding fees and costs. For example, the Court ruled:

21 The Court further found that NAS properly supported its claim for 22 $49,035.28 in attorney's fees and costs through August 27, 2010 23 comprised of $1,635.28 in costs and $47,400.00 in attorney's fees in defending and protecting its statutory right to an assessment lien, pursuant to NRS 116.3116(7).

24 Again, because NRS 116.3116(7) provides that in the case where a lawsuit is filed and a 25 judgment obtained, fees and costs must be awarded, the JP Morgan case and the Elkhorn case are 26 misplaced in the analysis before this Court. As no judgments or decrees are issued during a non-27 judicial foreclosure, NRS 116.3116(7) does not come into play and costs and fees cannot be obtained 28

1 in excess of the Super Priority Lien cap of 9 times an association's monthly assessment.

2 Further, as its sole, published, common law precedent for the proposition that the super 3 priority portion of an association's lien can consist of both 9 months of assessments plus collection
4 costs, Baker Place cites Hudson House Condominium Association v. Brooks, 223 Conn. 610, 611
5 A.2d 862 (1992). A case decided prior to Connecticut's unique statutory amendment to the UCIOA
6 allowing for attorney's fees in addition to the 6 month assessment figure, Baker Place claims that 7 the Supreme Court of Connecticut ruled that attorneys' fees must be included in the Super Priority
8 Lien Amount in addition to, not capped by, the applicable period of common expense assessments.

9 However, Defendants fail to understand that the sole reason why that one, single case allowed 10 6 months of assessments plus attorney's fees is not because attorney's fees are allowed to be added 11 as a matter of course pursuant to the super priority language of the statute, but only because the 12 homeowner's association (Hudson House Condominium Association) in that particular case
13 obtained a judgment against the homeowner. Thus, just as in the Judge Williams and Judge Vega 14 cases cited above, there was a statutory foundation for the award.

16 The Connecticut Supreme Court held that pursuant to another provision of Connecticut law
17 (Section 47-258(g)), when an association obtains a judgment, only then can an association obtain 18 both 6 months of assessment plus fees and costs. Nowhere did the Connecticut Court hold that an 19 association can obtain both collection costs and 6 months of assessments as a matter of course,
20 without first obtaining a judgment. In fact, in applying the original UCIOA that Nevada adopted, 21 no Supreme Court or Appellate Court anywhere has ever so held. The Connecticut Court specifically 22 determined that:

23 Section 47-258(g) provides that a "judgment or decree in any action
24 brought under this section shall include costs and reasonable 25 attorney's fees for the prevailing party." It is undisputed that HHCA, 26 as the plaintiff and the party in whose favor the trial court rendered 27 judgment, is the prevailing party in this, its own foreclosure action.
28 CHFA does not dispute that § 47-258(g) authorizes the inclusion of these costs and fees as part of HHCA's judgment.... Hudson House
Condo. Ass'n, Inc. v. Brooks, 223 Conn. 610, 616, 611 A.2d 862, 866

1 Thus, Section 47-258(g) specifically states, "A judgment or decree in any action brought under this 2 section shall include costs and reasonable attorney's fees for the prevailing party." Conn. Gen. Stat.
3 Ann. § 47-258 (West). In fact, Nevada has enacted the very same law in NRS 116.3116(7) which 4 states, "A judgment or decree in any action brought under this section must include costs and 5 reasonable attorney's fees for the prevailing party." There is simply no question that if an association 6 obtains a judgment against the lender and the lender retakes the property through foreclosure, like
7 in the Hudson House case, then attorney's fees and costs may be added to the 6 month assessment
8 figure as against the foreclosing lender. Indeed, there is a specific statute that allows for it.

10 10. FANNIE MAE AND FREDDIE MAC'S OFFICIAL POSITION IS THAT THE SUPER PRIORITY LIEN IS CAPPED

11 The Housing and Economic Recovery Act of 2008, enacted July 30, 2008, provided the 12 authority for the United States government's takeover of Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac. The act 13 created a new regulator, the Federal Housing Finance Agency ("FHFA"), with the authority to take 14 control of either Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac to restore them to sound financial conditions. Fannie 15 Mae and Freddie Mac have been under FHFA conservatorship since September 6, 2008. As 16 conservator, FHFA succeeded to all rights, titles, powers and privileges of Fannie Mae and Freddie 17 Mac and of any shareholder, officer or director of the Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac with respect to 18 the Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac and their assets.

19 Contrary to Defendant's argument that Fannie Mae or Freddie Mac approve an unlimited 20 amount of collection costs on top of the Super Priority Lien, the lead General Counsel for the Federal 21 Housing Finance Agency has specifically stated to Lucas Foletta, counsel for Governor Sandoval, 22 that Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac do not believe collection costs can be added on top of the Super 23 Priority Lien. Alfred M. Pollard, General Counsel to the FHFA wrote to the Governor's Office:

25 I would note Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac have provided for 26 reimbursement of six months of regular common expense unpaid
27 assessments. They do not reimburse for collection costs or attorney's 28 fees. (Ex. 10, Letter from Alfred Pollard to Lucas Folleta).

Therefore, contrary to Defendant's argument that Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac believe

1 collection costs can be added on top of the Super Priority Lien, Freddie Mac, Fannie Mac and the 2 FHFA hold no such position. Indeed, the U.S. Government's position is just the opposite.

3 11. THIS ACTION IS NOT BARRED BY NRS 38.310

4 NRS 38.310 states in pertinent part:

5 1. No civil action based upon a claim relating to:

6 (a) The interpretation, application or enforcement of any 7 covenants, conditions or restrictions applicable to residential property 8 or any bylaws, rules or regulations adopted by an association... may 9 be commenced in any court in this State unless the action has been submitted to mediation or arbitration pursuant to the provisions of NRS 38.300 to 38.360, inclusive.... NRS 38.310

10 NRS 38.310 is inapplicable for two reasons. The first is that this action requests that the 11 Court determine the meaning of a statute, not of any covenants, conditions or restrictions. For 12 example:

- 13 61. Plaintiffs are entitled to a declaratory judgment determining 14 the proper interpretation of NRS 116.3116, pursuant to NRS 30.040.
- 15 62. Declaratory relief is necessary to declare whether an 16 association, or its collection agency, may include "costs of collecting" as part of an association's lien.
- 17 63. Declaratory relief is necessary to declare whether Defendants 18 - as collection agencies for associations - may include more 19 than 9 times the monthly assessment for common expenses, based on the periodic budget, (plus Abatement Costs) as part 20 of the associations' super priority lien.

21 In determining whether "costs of collection" can be included in the statutory lien, the Court will look
22 to NRS 116.3116, not the CC&RS. Moreover, as this Court has already ruled in the Prem Deferred
23 Trust v. Aliante case and the Prem Deferred Trust v. Southern Highlands case, under NRS
24 116.3116(2), determining the amount of the super priority lien does not require the application, 25 enforcement or interpretation of CC&RS. One may determine the monthly assessment figure by a 26 simple review of the periodic budget which is required by NRS 116.3115. Lastly, the claims 27 contained in the Complaint on file are grounded on upon Plaintiff's claim for Declaratory Relief, i.e., 28 a legal issue (the meaning of NRS 116.3116). Notably, regarding the exhaustion of administrative

1 remedies, the Supreme Court has ruled, "The exhaustion doctrine will not deprive the court of 2 jurisdiction "where the issues relate solely to the interpretation or constitutionality of a statute." State
3 of Nevada v. Glusman, 98 Nev. 412, 419, 651 P.2d 639, 644 (1982), appeal dismissed, 459 U.S. 1192, 4 103 S.Ct. 1170, 75 L.Ed.2d 423 (1983).

5 The second reason why NRS 38.310 is inapplicable is because the State is requesting 6 injunctive relief. NRS 38.300 defines "civil action" in the following manner:

7 "Civil action" includes an action for money damages or equitable
8 relief. The term does not include an action in equity for injunctive 9 relief in which there is an immediate threat of irreparable harm, or an action relating to the title to residential property. NRS 38.300.

10 Therefore, injunctive relief is an exception to the mandatory mediation requirements. NRS
11 116.795 clearly give the State the right to seek injunctive relief from the district court "to restrain 12 or enjoin that person from engaging in or continuing to commit the violations" of NRS 116. Further, 13 in the case where parties are violating a statute, the courts (including the United States Supreme 14 Court) have concluded that irreparable harm is not a required element and have fashioned a different 15 test for determining when injunctive relief is warranted.

16 Because Defendants have been violating NRS 116, no showing of irreparable harm or 17 balancing the hardship of the parties is legally necessary as it is presumed. For example:

18 ... it must be observed that the violation of a statute ordinarily 19 presumes irreparable harm. Fleet Nat. Bank v. Burke 45 Conn.Supp.
20 566, 578, 727 A.2d 823, 829 (Conn.Super.,1998)

22 It is a well-established rule that where Congress expressly provides 23 for injunctive relief to prevent violations of a statute, a plaintiff does 24 not need to demonstrate irreparable harm to secure an injunction. In 25 such situations, it is not the role of the courts to balance the equities 26 between the parties. The controlling issue is whether Congress has 27 already balanced the equities and has determined that, as a matter of 28 public policy, an injunction should issue where the defendant is engaged in, or is about to engage in, any activity which the statute prohibits. National Wildlife Federation v. Harvey 440 F.Supp.2d 940, 955 (E.D.Ark.,2006)

1 Where the conduct sought to be enjoined is clearly in violation of a
2 statute, courts have adopted a more relaxed standard that relieves a 3 party moving for preliminary injunctive relief from demonstrating 4 two of these elements. Under this "per se" rule, the moving party need 5 not demonstrate irreparable harm or that the balance of hardships is 6 in his favor. Sadler v. State ex rel. Sanders 811 N.E.2d 936, 946
(Ind.App.,2004)

7 * * *

8 ... where injunctive relief is sought to prevent the violation of a 9 statute, the jurisprudential rule is that no showing of irreparable harm
10 is necessary. Historic Restoration, Inc. v. RSUI Indem. Co. 955 11 So.2d 200, 212-213, 2006-1178 (La.App. 4 Cir. 3/21/07), (La.App.
12 4 Cir.,2007)

14 A petitioner is entitled to injunctive relief without the requisite 15 showing of irreparable injury when the conduct sought to be 16 restrained is unconstitutional or unlawful, i.e., when the conduct 17 sought to be enjoined constitutes a direct violation of a prohibitory 18 law and/or a violation of a constitutional right. South Cent. Bell Tel.
19 Co. v. Louisiana Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 555 So.2d 1370 (La.1990).
20 Once a plaintiff has made a prima facie showing that the conduct to 21 be enjoined is reprobated by law, the petitioner is entitled to 22 injunctive relief without the necessity of showing that no other 23 adequate legal remedy exists. Jurisich v. Jenkins 749 So.2d 597, 599, 24 1999-0076 (La.,1999)

25 Therefore, because this case is about the interpretation of a statute, and because irreparable harm is 26 presumed due to the violation of a statute, this Court has no obligation to dismiss this case.

27 CONCLUSION

28 For the foregoing reasons, the proposed friends of the court request leave to file this Amicus Curiae Brief.

12 company, Rutt Prensirut, Manager, for an application for Advisory Opinion and 13 Declaratory Order pursuant to NAC §232.040
Petition for declaratory order or advisory 14 opinion

Docket No.

15 COMES NOW, Petitioner Prem Investments, LLC., a Nevada limited liability company, Rutt 16 Prensirut, Manager ("Petitioner" or "Prem Investments") and hereby applies by Petition to the 17 Nevada Department of Business and Industry for an Advisory Opinion and Declaratory Order 18 concerning the applicability of a statute. This application for Petition for Advisory Opinion and 19 Declaratory Order is made pursuant to NAC §232.040, Petition for declaratory order or advisory 20 opinion; Authorization; filing; contents. This Petition is made to the Director of the Nevada 21 Department of Business and Industry pursuant to NAC §232.040(2)(b). In support of this Petition, 22 Prem Investments, by and through its counsel, states as follows:

23 I

24 PETITIONER

25 Prem Investments is not a party in any administrative, civil or criminal action concerning the 26 matters contained in this Petition. Prem Investments is in the business of purchasing single family
27 residences ("Real Property") through foreclosure auctions held by the first mortgage lender of said
28 Real Property. Prem Investments has been the recipient of demands by Nevada collection agencies

1 licensed under NRS §649 and purporting to represent Nevada common interest communities 2 ("homeowners' associations") in the collection of homeowners' associations' liens placed upon the 3 Real Property. Said liens comprise debts which were incurred by the prior owner of the Real
4 Property but which have been extinguished pursuant to NRS §116.3116 by the first mortgage
5 lender's foreclosure auction. Regardless that the liens have been legally extinguished and the debt
6 is not owed by Petitioner, Nevada collection agencies are demanding and collecting said lien
7 amounts from Petitioner and refusing to clear title of the Real Property unless payment is made.

8 All correspondence can be mailed to Prem Investments at: 520 S. Fourth Street, Second 9 Floor, Las Vegas, NV 89101, with copy to Adams Law Group, Ltd., at 8681 W. Sahara Ave., Suite
10 280, Las Vegas, NV 89117.

12 THE FACTS

13 Homeowners' associations and their collection agents are enforcing and collecting 14 extinguished association liens and instituting wrongful foreclosure proceedings against the Real 15 Property of Petitioner, and other owners of real property including lenders, government mortgage 16 insurers and investors who take title to single family residences through foreclosure auctions. In 17 Nevada, pursuant to NRS §116.3116, once a first mortgage lender forecloses on a unit located within 18 a homeowners' association, an association's lien is extinguished but for a limited and finite portion 19 of the lien called the "super priority lien amount." However, the practice of homeowners'
20 associations and their collection agents is to regularly violate Nevada law and charge to the new 21 owner (who acquires title at the auction) the entire lien amount, not just the limited, super priority 22 lien amount.

23 The scheme, which has purported to net Nevada homeowners' associations and collection 24 agencies tens of millions of dollars over the last few years, generally unfolds as follows:

- 25 • A homeowner, owning property within an association, becomes delinquent in the 26 payment of his mortgage. Simultaneously, the homeowner stops paying his 27 association assessments.

- 1 ● The association assesses fines, late fees, and penalties against the homeowner and,
2 most notably, employs a collection agency to collect the past due amounts. Even 3 though the association assessments are often less than $100 per month, the 4 associations and collection agencies add thousands of dollars of "collection" fees 5 onto the homeowner's bill.
- 6 ● Knowing that these fees constitute a statutory lien on the homeowner's property, the 7 associations and collection agencies are secure in knowing that their many thousands 8 of dollars in "collection" fees will get paid, or else the homeowner's title will remain 9 clouded.
- 10 ● Then, due to the homeowner's inability to pay his mortgage, the homeowner's lender
11 ultimately forecloses on the property. At the foreclosure auction, the lender, lenders' 12 mortgage insurer or an investor will take title to the property.
- 13 ● Once this happens, under Nevada law, the association's lien is extinguished by the 14 foreclosure auction, but for the limited, "super priority lien amount" which equals a 15 maximum of 9 times the association's monthly assessments.
- 16 ● However, instead of informing the new owner that the association's lien has been 17 extinguished but for the super priority lien amount, the associations through their 18 collection agencies represent that they have the legal right to collect from the new 19 owner all monies owed by the original homeowner, including the thousands of 20 dollars of "collection" fees added onto the original homeowner's bill.
- 21 ● Knowing that title is clouded by the maintaining of the lien and also knowing that the 22 new owner cannot sell the property without clear title, the associations and collection 23 agencies demand vastly more amounts of money than Nevada law requires the new 24 owner to pay.
- 25 ● Ultimately, in order to clear title and to prevent the association from foreclosing its 26 unlawful lien amount, the new owner pays the improperly demanded amounts and 27 gets the dubious distinction of having paid to Nevada collection agencies thousands 28 of dollars which he did not owe.

1 This alleged scheme is purported to have been conducted thousands of times resulting in the 2 overpayment by lenders, government mortgage insurers and investors of tens of millions of dollars.

4 THE ISSUES

5 The reason for requesting this order and opinion is to determine whether the foreclosure by 6 a first mortgage lender on a property located within a Nevada common interest community
7 extinguishes an existing homeowners' association lien against said property. More particularly, the 8 issues upon which the advisory opinion and declaratory order are sought are the following:

- 9 1. Under NRS §116.3116, a homeowners' association has a lien on a unit for any 10 assessment levied against that unit or any fines imposed against the unit's owner 11 from the time the assessment or fine becomes due. Pursuant to NRS §116.3116, what 12 portion of the lien, if any, is superior to the unit's first mortgage lender's security 13 interest ("super priority lien") and may the sum total of the super priority lien 14 amount, whether it be comprised of assessments, fees, costs of collection, or other 15 charges, ever exceed 9 times the monthly assessment amount for common expenses
16 based on the periodic budget adopted by the association pursuant to NRS §116.3115, 17 plus any charges incurred by the association on a unit pursuant to NRS §116.310312 18 (unit repair expenses)?
- 19 2. Pursuant to NRS §116.3116, does a "super priority lien" exist in the absence of a 20 homeowners' association's failure to file a complaint with a court to enforce the lien, 21 i.e., the failure to institute a "civil action" as defined by Nevada Rules of Civil 22 Procedure 2 and 3?

23 IV.

24 RELEVANT LAW AND HISTORY

25 A. Introduction of the Uniform Common Interest Ownership Act

26 The Uniform Common Interest Ownership Act ("UCIOA") was originally promulgated in 27 1982 by the National Conference of Commissioners on Uniform State Laws ("Uniform Law
28

Commissioners” or “ULC”). In 1991, Nevada passed the UCIOA which is embodied in Nevada Revised Statutes §116. As of October 31, 2009, there were 2,961 registered Nevada common interest communities (“homeowners’ associations”) subject to NRS §116 having a total of 472,777 units within them.¹ UCIOA is a comprehensive act that governs the formation, management, and termination of a common interest community, whether that community is a condominium, planned community, or real estate cooperative. It also provides for disclosure of important facts about common interest property at sale to a buyer, including resale disclosure for any sale after the initial sale by the developer of the property; for warranties of sale; for a buyer’s rescission rights in a sale contract; and for escrow of deposits made to secure a sale contract. Importantly, it also governs the creation, treatment, foreclosure and extinguishment of homeowners’ associations’ liens on units within their communities.

B. The Legislative History & the Super Priority Lien

The UCIOA governs liens against properties located within homeowners’ associations and, regarding association liens against units, generally states as follows:

- a. Homeowners associations have a statutory lien on any unit of real property located within their associations for any assessment imposed against a unit or fine imposed against the unit’s owner from the time the assessment or fine becomes due;
- b. However, the associations’ liens are junior to the first security interest of the unit’s first mortgage lender except for a certain, limited and specified portion of the lien as defined in §3-116 which remains senior to the first security interest of the unit’s first mortgage lender, provided that the associations had instituted an “action” to enforce their liens (the “Super Priority Lien Amount”).

¹ Executive Summary of the Ombudsman, Reporting Period: July 1, 2009 through October 31, 2009

1 Thus, in a break with traditional lien priority law, the UCIOA granted the association a lien priority
2 over first mortgages recorded before any assessment delinquency. However, as shall be noted below, 3 the associations' lien priority is only available to a certain and limited extent.

4 The original language of the 1982 UCIOA regarding §3-116 and super priority liens is as 5 follows:

6 (a) The association has a lien on a unit for any assessment levied
7 against that unit or fines imposed against its unit owner from the time
8 the assessment or fine becomes due. Unless the declaration otherwise 9 provides, fees, charges, late charges, fines, and interest charged 10 pursuant to Section 3-102(a)(10), (11), and (12) are enforceable as 11 assessments under this section. If an assessment is payable in 12 instalments, the full amount of the assessment is a lien from the time 13 the first instalment thereof becomes due.

14 (b) A lien under this section is prior to all other liens and 15 encumbrances on a unit except (i) liens and encumbrances recorded 16 before the recordation of the declaration and, in a cooperative, liens 17 and encumbrances which the association creates, assumes, or takes 18 subject to, (ii) a first security interest on the unit recorded before the 19 date on which the assessment sought to be enforced became 20 delinquent, or, in a cooperative, the first security interest encumbering 21 only the unit owner's interest and perfected before the date on which 22 the assessment sought to be enforced became delinquent, and 23 (iii) liens for real estate taxes and other governmental assessments or 24 charges against the unit or cooperative. The lien is also prior to all 25 security interests described in clause (ii) above to the extent of the 26 common expense assessments based on the periodic budget adopted 27 by the association pursuant to Section 3-115(a) which would have 28 become due in the absence of acceleration during the 6 months immediately preceding institution of an action to enforce the lien.

This subsection does not affect the priority of mechanics' or materialmen's liens, or the priority of liens for other assessments made by the association. [The lien under this section is not subject to the provisions of [insert appropriate reference to state homestead, dower and curtesy, or other exemptions]. (See Exhibit "1")

22 Thus, the "super priority" portion of the homeowners' associations' liens were capped "to the extent 23 of the common expense assessments based on the periodic budget adopted by the association 24 pursuant to section 3-115(a) which would have become due in the absence of acceleration during the 25 six months immediately preceding an action to enforce the lien." While an underlying association 26 lien may have been for a higher amount, the only amount which could achieve "super priority" status 27 over the first mortgage lender was an amount equaling 6 times the monthly assessments.

1 Interestingly, the Super Priority Lien Amount was intended to be a fixed amount, i.e., one
2 that a lender could approximate prior to lending funds to a borrower who was purchasing within a 3 common interest community. This was so that the lender could escrow, from the borrower funds, 4 the predetermined Super Priority Lien Amount in case the borrower failed to pay the assessments.
5 As noted in the comments section of the 1994 draft of the UCIOA:

6 To ensure prompt and efficient enforcement of the association's lien
7 for unpaid assessments, such liens should enjoy statutory priority over 8 most other liens. Accordingly, subsection (b) provides that the 9 association's lien takes priority over all other liens and encumbrances 10 except those recorded prior to the recordation of the declaration, those 11 imposed for real estate taxes or other governmental assessments or 12 charges against the unit, and first security interests recorded before 13 the date the assessment became delinquent. However, as to prior first 14 security interests the association's lien does have priority for six 15 months' assessments based on the periodic budget. A significant 16 departure from existing practice, the six months' priority for the 17 assessment lien strikes an equitable balance between the need to 18 enforce collection of unpaid assessments and the obvious necessity
19 for protecting the priority of the security interests of lenders. As a 20 practical matter, secured lenders will most likely pay the six months' 21 assessments demanded by the association rather than having the 22 association foreclose on the unit. If the lender wishes, an escrow for 23 assessments can be required. (See Exhibit "2," Comments, UCIOA 24 1994, page 159-160.)

25 Thus, since the lender would know what the assessments were prior to lending, and since the 26 lender would know, pursuant to §3-116 of the UCIOA, that the Super Priority Lien Amount was 27 limited to 6 months of assessments, it could require the borrower to escrow, prior to closing, exactly 28 that amount of funds for which the lender might be liable, i.e., the Super Priority Lien Amount. The 29 lender, therefore, had protection if it had to pay the Super Priority Lien Amount, and the association 30 was assured of payment of a maximum figure equal to 6 months of assessments if the 31 borrower/homeowner defaulted on his obligations to his association. Thus, the "equitable balance 32 between the need to enforce collection of unpaid assessments and the obvious necessity for 33 protecting the priority of the security interests of lenders" was accomplished.

34 C. Nevada Revised Statutes §116.3116

35 In 1991, Nevada adopted the 1982 version of the UCIOA. The provisions relating to 36 homeowners' association liens were embodied in NRS §116.3116. On October 1, 2009, NRS 37 §116.3116 was amended by the Nevada legislature in two important ways. First, it increased the

1 Super Priority Lien Amount to a figure equaling 9 times (formerly 6 times) the monthly assessment 2 amount for common expenses based on the periodic budget adopted by the association pursuant to 3 NRS §116.3115 (see Nevada Assembly Bill 204). In calculating the Super Priority Lien Amount,
4 it also allowed to be added any charges incurred by the association on a unit pursuant to NRS
5 §116.310312 (repair expenses of a unit) (see Nevada Assembly Bill 361). The most recent adoption 6 of NRS §116.3116 states in pertinent part:

7 1. The association has a lien on a unit for any construction penalty
8 that is imposed against the unit's owner pursuant to NRS 116.310305, 9 any assessment levied against that unit or any fines imposed against 10 the unit's owner from the time the construction penalty, assessment 11 or fine becomes due.

12 (2) A lien under this section is prior to all other liens and 13 encumbrances on a unit except:

14 (b) A first security interest on the unit recorded before the date on 15 which the assessment sought to be enforced became delinquent or, in 16 a cooperative, the first security interest encumbering only the unit's 17 owner's interest and perfected before the date on which the 18 assessment sought to be enforced became delinquent;

19 The lien is also prior to all security interests described in paragraph 20 (b) to the extent of any charges incurred by the association on a unit 21 pursuant to NRS 116.310312 and to the extent of the assessments for 22 common expenses based on the periodic budget adopted by the 23 association pursuant to NRS 116.3115 which would have become due 24 in the absence of acceleration during the 9 months immediately 25 preceding institution of an action to enforce the lien, unless federal 26 regulations adopted by the Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corporation
27 or the Federal National Mortgage Association require a shorter period 28 of priority for the lien.

20 The figure equaling 9 times the association's monthly assessment amount has been dubbed 21 the "Super Priority Lien Amount" because it is that figure which remains senior or superior to the 22 first security interest holder's trust deed. It is only the Super Priority Lien Amount, not all 23 association lien amounts, which is super to the first mortgage holder's trust deed. Any amounts 24 greater than the Super Priority Lien Amount still remain a lien against the owner's unit, but it is a 25 lien which is junior to the first security interest holder. The "junior" portion of the lien, therefore, 26 is extinguished by a foreclosing first mortgage lender and the "super priority" portion of the lien 27 survives extinguishment by the foreclosing first mortgage lender.
28

1 D. Necessity for the Institution of an Action

2 As a condition precedent to the establishment of a super priority lien, homeowners'
3 associations need to file "an action to enforce the lien...." Nevada and Massachusetts have nearly 4 identical language in their homeowners' association super priority lien statutes regarding the 5 necessity for the institution of an action to enforce the lien:

6 NRS 116.3116

7 The lien is also prior to all security interests 8 described in paragraph (b) to the extent of any 9 charges incurred by the association on a unit 10 pursuant to NRS 116.310312 and to the 11 extent of the assessments for common
12 expenses based on the periodic budget
13 adopted by the association pursuant to NRS 14 116.3115 which would have become due in 15 the absence of acceleration during the 9 16 months immediately preceding institution of 17 an action to enforce the lien....

18 MA ST 183A s 6

19 This lien is also prior to the mortgages 20 described in clause (ii) above to the extent of 21 the common expense assessments based on 22 the budget adopted pursuant to subsection (a) 23 above which would have become due in the 24 absence of acceleration during the six months
25 immediately preceding institution of an action
26 to enforce the lien....

27 Citing nearly identical language as that of the Nevada statute, the Massachusetts courts have 28 held that the institution of a lawsuit (i.e., a civil action) is a condition precedent for homeowners' associations' achievement of super priority status for any portion of its lien amount. The Massachusetts courts have held:

 The condominium lien achieves "super priority" status over the first mortgage when a condominium association institutes "an action to enforce the lien." Thus, Section 6(c) provides that: [t]his lien is also prior to the mortgages described in clause (ii) above to the extent of the common expense assessments based on the budget adopted pursuant to subsection

 (a) above which would have become due in the absence of acceleration during the six months immediately preceding institution of an action to enforce the lien...

Accordingly, the institution of an action by a condominium association is a condition precedent to achieving "super-priority" status for the condominium lien. However, even when the association files such an action, the condominium lien is given a "super-priority" status only to the extent of unpaid condominium fees for the preceding six months.

It is uncontested by the parties that a lawsuit is required before a lien for unpaid condominium fees achieves a "super-priority"

1 status. See also In re Stern, 44 B.R. 15, 19 (Bankr.D.Mass.1984).
2 ("the establishment of the lien is not dependent on the 3 commencement of a lawsuit, which is only a step necessary to elevate 4 the status of the lien to a position superior to other encumbrances, 5 other than municipal liens and first mortgages.")...

6 In this regard, M.G.L. ch. 183A, § 6(c) specifically provides that,
7 without the commencement of an enforcement action by a 8 condominium association, a lien for unpaid condominium fees is 9 "prior" to all other liens and encumbrances "except ... (ii) a first 10 mortgage on the unit recorded before the date on which the 11 assessment sought to be enforced became delinquent ..." (emphasis 12 added). *That exception makes the lien junior at least until an action 13 is commenced. Indeed, if the lien was anything but junior to the 14 first mortgage, there would be no reason to require that an action 15 be filed in order to grant that lien super-priority status. Trustees of 16 MacIntosh Condominium Association v. F.D.I.C., et.al. 908 F.Supp.
17 58 at 63 (1995).*

18 Thus, as a "condition precedent" to elevate a portion of a homeowners' association's lien (in 19 Nevada, an amount equaling 9 times the monthly assessments) from "junior" status to "super 20 priority" status, a homeowners' association must file an "action" to enforce the lien. Nevada Rules
21 of Civil Procedure 2 states, "There shall be one form of action to be known as 'civil action.'" Nevada 22 Rules of Civil Procedure 3 states, "A civil action is commenced by filing a complaint with the 23 court." Therefore, until a homeowners' association files a complaint with the court to enforce its lien, 24 no amount of its lien can achieve "super priority" status. While the lien remains a lien on the 25 owner's unit, it is in "junior" status to the first security holder's deed of trust. Thus, until the filing 26 of a complaint with the court to enforce its lien, upon the first mortgage holder's foreclosure, the 27 association's junior lien is extinguished in its entirety.

28 So in first addressing question 2 above, "Pursuant to NRS §116.3116, does a "super priority lien" exist in the absence of a homeowners' association's failure to file a complaint with a court to enforce the lien, i.e., the failure to institute a "civil action" as defined by Nevada Rules of Civil Procedure 2 and 3?" the answer must be no. Pursuant to NRS §116.3116, a homeowners' association's filing of a complaint with the court to enforce its lien is a condition precedent for any portion of its lien to achieve "super priority" status.

1 E. Collection Costs and the Super Priority Lien Amount Limit

2 Even if a homeowners' association does file a complaint with the court to enforce its lien,
3 the lien is only given a "super-priority" status to the extent of a maximum amount equal to 9 times
4 the monthly assessment amount adopted by the association in its last budget (see NRS 116.3116(2), 5 "The lien is also prior to all security interests described in paragraph (b) to the extent of any 6 charges incurred by the association on a unit pursuant to NRS 116.310312 and to the extent of the 7 assessments for common expenses based on the periodic budget adopted by the association pursuant 8 to NRS 116.3115 which would have become due in the absence of acceleration during the 9 months
9 immediately preceding institution of an action to enforce the lien...."). All other portions of the lien 10 which exceed that limit are junior to the first mortgage lender (see NRS 116.3116 (2)(b), "A lien
11 under this section is prior to all other liens and encumbrances on a unit except... A first security 12 interest on the unit recorded before the date on which the assessment sought to be enforced became 13 delinquent....").

14 It is important to note, however, that any association penalties, fees, charges, late charges, 15 fines and interest are enforceable as assessments are enforceable (see NRS 116.3116(1)), "... any 16 penalties, fees, charges, late charges, fines and interest charged pursuant to paragraphs (j) to (n), 17 inclusive, of subsection 1 of NRS 116.3102 are enforceable as assessments under this section....").
18 In other words, penalties, late fees, and collection charges may be included within the Super Priority 19 Lien Amount, as long as the total Super Priority Lien Amount does not exceed an amount which 20 equals 9 times the association's monthly assessment amount (plus unit repair expenses under NRS 21 116.310312). Again, as the statute states, "The lien is also prior to all security interests described
22 in paragraph (b) to the extent of any charges incurred by the association on a unit pursuant to NRS
23 116.310312 and to the extent of the assessments for common expenses based on the periodic budget
24 adopted by the association pursuant to NRS 116.3115 which would have become due in the absence 25 of acceleration during the 9 months immediately preceding institution of an action to enforce the 26 lien....") (NRS 116.3116(2)).

27 Indeed, it is critical to make clear that while assessments, late fees, charges, interest, and 28 costs of collecting, etc., may all be included within the Super Priority Lien Amount, in no instance

1 may the sum total of the super priority portion of the lien exceed 9 times the monthly assessments
2 for common expenses based on the periodic budget adopted by the association pursuant to NRS
3 116.3115, plus any charges incurred by the association on a unit pursuant to NRS 116.310312 (repair
4 expenses). With the exception of the addition of repair expenses pursuant to NRS 116.310312, the 5 Super Priority Lien Amount is a finite number which is not to be exceeded. It is a ceiling. It is a 6 limit. It may, however, contain within it more than just assessments.

7 In 1991, both Nevada and Colorado adopted the UCIOA with language mirroring UCIOA
8 Section 3-116 (1982 version). As noted by the Colorado Supreme Court, "The Colorado Common
9 Interest Ownership Act was originally adopted in 1991, effective July 1, 1992. Ch. 283, sec. 1, §§ 10 38-33.3-101 to -319, 1991 Colo. Sess. Laws 1701-57. It was adopted, among other reasons, to 11 provide stability to the finances of common interest communities by granting them a super-lien for 12 unpaid assessments, and to provide uniformity and predictability to lenders in order to promote the 13 availability of financing." BA Mortg., LLC v. Quail Creek Condominium Ass'n, Inc. 192 P.3d 447, 14 450 (Colo.App.,2008). A comparison of the two statutes is as follows:

NRS 116.3116 - NV Super Priority Language	CO ST s 38-33.3-316 - CO Super Priority Language
The lien is also prior to all security interests described in paragraph (b) to the extent of any charges incurred by the association on a unit pursuant to NRS 116.310312 and to the extent of the assessments for common expenses based on the periodic budget adopted by the association pursuant to NRS 116.3115 which would have become due in the absence of acceleration during the 9 months immediately preceding institution of an action to enforce the lien...	... a lien under this section is also prior to the security interests described in subparagraph (II) of paragraph (a) of this subsection (2) to the extent of: (I) An amount equal to the common expense assessments based on a periodic budget adopted by the association under section 38-33.3-315(1) which would have become due, in the absence of any acceleration, during the six months immediately preceding institution by either the association or any party holding a lien senior to any part of the association lien created under this section of an action or a nonjudicial foreclosure either to enforce or to extinguish the lien.

25 The Colorado Court of Appeals and the author of a Wake Forest Law Review article quoted
26 by the Colorado courts both concluded that although the assessment portion of the super priority lien 27 is limited to a finite number of months, because the assessment lien itself includes "fees, charges, late charges, attorney fees, fines, and interest," these charges may be included as part of the Super Priority Lien Amount. The Colorado language is the same as NRS §116.3116, which states that "fees, charges, late charges, fines and interest charged pursuant to paragraphs (j) to (n), inclusive, of subsection 1 of NRS §116.3102 are enforceable as assessments." Therefore, as NRS §116.3116 states that assessments are enforceable through liens, so are collection charges, late charges, fines, fees, etc., enforceable through liens. However, while such charges may be included in the Super Priority Lien Amount, as noted by the Colorado Supreme Court, the maximum amount of the super priority lien is capped:

We conclude that the plain language of the statute supports Sunstone's position. Within the meaning of subsection (2)(b), a "lien under this section" may include any of the expenses listed in subsection (1), including "fees, charges, late charges, attorney fees, fines, and interest." Thus, although the maximum amount of a super priority lien is defined solely by reference to monthly assessments, the lien itself may comprise debts other than delinquent monthly assessments.

We note that our view matches that of a commentator who has examined the uniform act on which § 38-33.3-316 was based. This commentator has concluded that, under the uniform act, the super priority lien may comprise debts other than delinquent assessments:

A careful reading of the ... language reveals that the association's Prioritized Lien, like its Less-Prioritized Lien, may consist not merely of defaulted assessments, but also of fines and, where the statute so specifies, enforcement and attorney fees. The reference in section 3-116(b) to priority "to the extent of" assessments which would have been due "during the six months immediately preceding an action to enforce the lien" merely limits the maximum amount of all fees or charges for common facilities use or for association services, late charges and fines, and interest which can come with the Prioritized Lien. First Atlantic Mortg., LLC v. Sunstone North Homeowners Ass'n 121 P.3d 254, 255-256 (Colo.App.,2005).

Thus, the words "to the extent of" (found in both Nevada's and Colorado's §3-116) limit the maximum amount of all fees, charges, costs and assessments which can comprise the super priority lien to an amount which does not exceed 9 times (6 times in Colorado) the association's monthly assessment amount. In Nevada and Colorado, collection costs and attorney's fees are not added on top of the 9 month amount, but may be incorporated within that amount, provided the Super Priority Lien Amount does not exceed 9 times the association's monthly assessments.

1 The Colorado Supreme Court recently punctuated the above point in its 2008 case of BA
2 Mortg., LLC v. Quail Creek Condominium Ass'n, Inc. 192 P.3d 447, 450 (Colo.App.,2008).

3 The association then has a super-priority lien over the lender's
4 otherwise senior deed of trust in the event of a foreclosure
5 commenced by the association or the lender, which lien is limited to 6 delinquent assessments accruing within six months of the initiation 7 of foreclosure proceedings. § 38-33.3-316(2)(b)(I). Further, the 8 association's super-priority lien includes interest, charges, late 9 charges, fines, and attorney fees so long as the total does not exceed 10 the limit. BA Mortg., LLC v. Quail Creek Condominium Ass'n, Inc.
11 192 P.3d 447, 451 (Colo.App.,2008)

12 So long as the total of all assessments, fees, costs and other charges do not exceed the limit
13 of an amount equal to 9 times (6 times in Colorado) of monthly assessments, the super priority lien
14 includes interest, charges, late charges, etc. The Colorado Supreme Court, applying Colorado Code
15 Section 38-33.3-116 (which is nearly identical to Nevada's NRS 116.3116,) made clear that the 6 16 or 9 month assessment total is a super priority limit which cannot be exceeded. This was "... to 17 provide uniformity and predictability to lenders in order to promote the availability of financing."
18 BA Mortg., LLC v. Quail Creek Condominium Ass'n, Inc. 192 P.3d 447, 450 (Colo.App.,2008).

19 Nowhere is this distinction made clearer than by the very law review article cited by the 20 Colorado courts. James Winokur, in his treatise, "Meaner Lienor Community Associations: The 21 "Super Priority" Lien and Related Reforms Under the Uniform Common Ownership Act," 27 Wake 22 Forest L. Rev.353, states as follows:

23 In its most heralded break with traditional law, UCIOA grants the 24 association a lien priority over first mortgages recorded before any 25 assessment delinquency "to the extent of the common expense
26 assessments based on the periodic budget adopted by the association 27 pursuant to section 3-115(a) which would have become due in the 28 absence of acceleration during the six months immediately preceding an action to enforce the lien." Any excess of total assessment defaults, in addition to other lienable fines or costs over this six-month ceiling remains a lien on the property. The portion of the association lien securing this excess will be junior to the first mortgage on the unit, but senior to other mortgages and encumbrances not recorded before the declaration. Thus, although the association's lien is a single lien, its varying priority effectively separates the association's rights in a given unit into what may be conceived of as two liens, which are hereinafter referred to as the "Prioritized Lien" and the "Less-Prioritized Lien."

A careful reading of the quoted language reveals that the association's Prioritized Lien, like its Less-Prioritized Lien, may consist not merely

1 of defaulted assessments, but also of fines and, where the statute so
2 specifies, enforcement and attorney fees. The reference in section 3 3-116(b) to priority "to the extent of" assessments which would have 4 been due "during the six months immediately preceding an action to 5 enforce the lien" merely limits the maximum amount of all fees or 6 charges for common facilities use or for association services, late 7 charges and fines, and interest which can come within the Prioritized 8 Lien. So, for example, if a unit owner fell three months behind in 9 assessments, the Prioritized Lien might include--in addition to the 10 three months of arrearages--the other fees, charges, costs, etc.
11 enforceable as assessments under UCIOA. However, for any 12 assessments or other charges to be included within the Prioritized 13 Lien, there must have been a properly adopted periodic budget 14 promulgated "at least annually" by the association from which the 15 appropriate six months assessment ceiling can be computed. (James 16 Winokur, Meaner Lienor Community Associations: The "Super 17 Priority" Lien and Related Reforms Under the Uniform Common 18 Ownership Act, 27 Wake Forest L. Rev.353. See Exhibit "3").

19 The following examples may assist:

20 Case 1: A homeowner's assessments adopted through the association's last budget
21 are $100 per month. He is 4 months delinquent ($400). The association has charged 22 $80 in late fees and $375 in costs of collecting. The association has incurred no
23 repair costs under NRS 116.310312. Thus, the total amount of the homeowner's
24 delinquency is $855. Because the association has a lien for assessments under NRS
25 116.3116, and because any penalties, fees, charges, late charges, fines and interest
26 charged pursuant to paragraphs (j) to (n), inclusive, of subsection 1 of NRS 116.3102
27 are enforceable as assessments, and because the association lien is prior to all first 28 security interests only to the extent of the assessments for common expenses during the 9 months immediately preceding institution of an action to enforce the lien, assuming the institution of an "action" by the association, the maximum super priority lien amount is $900 (9 x $100 of monthly assessments). Thus, the full $855 is included in the super priority lien. Mathematically, $855 (the association lien) is prior to the first mortgage lien to the extent of $900 (9 times the monthly assessments).

Case 2: A homeowner's assessments adopted through the association's last budget are $100 per month. He is 12 months delinquent ($1,200). The association has charged $240 in late fees and $1,600 in costs of collecting. The association has incurred no repair costs under NRS 116.310312. Thus, the total amount of the homeowner's delinquency is $3,040. Because the association has a lien for assessments under NRS 116.3116, and because any penalties, fees, charges, late charges, fines and interest charged pursuant to paragraphs (j) to (n), inclusive, of 1 subsection 1 of NRS 116.3102 are enforceable as assessments, and because the lien

2 is prior to all first security interests only to the extent of the assessments for common 3 expenses during the 9 months immediately preceding institution of an action to 4 enforce the lien, assuming the institution of an "action" by the association, the 5 maximum super priority lien amount is still $900 (9 x $100 of monthly assessments).
6 Mathematically, $3,040 (the association lien) is prior to the first mortgage lien only 7 to the extent of $900 (9 times the monthly assessments). Thus, $900 is the Super 8 Priority Lien Amount and the remaining $2,140, while still a lien against the unit, is 9 junior to the first mortgage. This analysis is consistent with the holdings of the 10 Colorado Supreme Court and James Winokur's Meaner Lienor Community
11 Associations: The "Super Priority" Lien and Related Reforms Under the Uniform
12 Common Ownership Act, 27 Wake Forest L. Rev. 353. Winokur described the $900
13 portion of the lien as the "Prioritized Lien" (i.e., super priority lien) and the $2,140
14 portion as the "Less Prioritized Lien" (i.e., junior lien).

15 Thus, the Super Priority Lien Amount does not change from neighbor to neighbor depending 16 upon costs of collection. It is always an amount equal to 9 times the association's monthly
17 assessment. The only time the Super Priority Lien Amount can change is when the assessments 18 change in the association's budget or when the association incurs repair expenses for a unit pursuant 19 to NRS §116.310312.

17 F. The Connecticut Amendment

18 As stated above, in 1991, Nevada and Colorado adopted the UCIOA with language mirroring 19 UCIOA Section 3-116 (1982 version). Connecticut also adopted a version of the UCIOA, but with 20 a significant and fundamental amendment to §3-116. This amendment was adopted by Connecticut
21 in 1991 (see C.G.S. Section 47-258(b) as amended by No. 91-359 of the Public Acts of 1991). A 22 comparison of the three statutes as originally enacted is as follows:

23 ///

24 ///

25 ///

26 ///

NV Super Priority Language	CO Super Priority Language	CT Super Priority Language
The lien is also prior to all security interests described in paragraph (b) to the extent of the assessments for common expenses based on the periodic budget adopted by the association pursuant to NRS 116.3115 which would have become due in the absence of acceleration during the 6 months immediately preceding institution of an action to enforce the lien. This subsection does not affect the priority of mechanics' or materialmen's liens, or the priority of liens for other assessments made by the association.	... a lien under this section is also prior to the security interests described in subparagraph (II) of paragraph (a) of this subsection (2) to the extent of: (I) An amount equal to the common expense assessments based on a periodic budget adopted by the association under section 38-33.3-315(1) which would have become due, in the absence of any acceleration, during the six months immediately preceding institution by either the association or any party holding a lien senior to any part of the association lien created under this section of an action or a nonjudicial foreclosure either to enforce or to extinguish the lien.	The lien is also prior to all security interests described in subdivision (2) of this subsection to the extent of (A) an amount equal to the common expense assessments based on the periodic budget adopted by the association pursuant to subsection (a) of section 47-257 which would have become due in the absence of acceleration during the six months immediately preceding institution of an action to enforce either the association's lien or a security interest described in subdivision (2) of this subsection and (B) the association's costs and attorney's fees in enforcing its lien.

As can be observed, Connecticut added a new provision to UCIOA's Section 3-116, which Nevada and Colorado did not adopt. While Nevada and Colorado's super priority lien was limited to the extent of an amount equal to just 6 months of assessments only, the Connecticut legislature intentionally permitted adding the association's costs and attorney's fees on top of the 6 month assessment figure. This is a fundamental distinction between Connecticut's law, and the laws of the states of Nevada and Colorado (and other states like Alaska, Minnesota, West Virginia, and New Jersey).

However, unlike in Connecticut, in the states of Nevada and Colorado, consistent with the original language of the 1982 UCIOA, while the Super Priority Lien Amount may include collection costs and charges, the sum total of all assessments, fees, and collection costs may not exceed the figure equaling 6 times (now 9 times in Nevada plus unit repair costs) the monthly assessments. As previously mentioned, any amounts which are over that limit still constitute a lien on the homeowner's unit, but it constitutes a lien which is junior to the first mortgage (i.e., a less prioritized lien which may be extinguished by a first mortgage holder's foreclosure).

1 In July of 2008, the National Conference of Commissioners on Uniform State Laws held its 2 annual conference where it incorporated Connecticut's costs and fees amendment into the Uniform
3 Law Commissioners' 2008 revised version of the UCIOA. Under the 2008, revised UCIOA (which 4 has not been adopted in Nevada,) the UCIOA super priority lien now consists of both six months of 5 assessments and attorney's fees and costs:

6 (c) A The lien under this section is also prior to all security interests 7 described in subsection (b)(2) clause (ii) above to the extent of both 8 the common expense assessments based on the periodic budget 9 adopted by the association pursuant to Section 3-115(a) which would 10 have become due in the absence of acceleration during the six months 11 immediately preceding institution of an action to enforce the lien and 12 reasonable attorney's fees and costs incurred by the association in 13 foreclosing the association's lien. 2008 Amendments to the UCIOA

14 As noted in the comments section on Page 198 of the 2008 Amendments to the UCIOA, 15 "First, subsection (a) is amended to add the cost of the association's reasonable attorneys fees and 16 court costs to the total value of the association's existing 'super lien' – currently, 6 months of regular 17 common assessments. This amendment is identical to the amendment adopted by Connecticut in 18 1991; see C.G.S. Section 47-258(b). The increased amount of the association's lien has been 19 approved by Fannie Mae and local lenders and has become a significant tool in the successful 20 collection efforts enjoyed by associations in that state." (See Exhibit "4").

21 It is vital to note, however, that in 2009 Nevada had the opportunity to adopt the newly 22 revised UCIOA, but chose not to. The October 1, 2009, revisions to NRS §116.3116 are 23 conspicuously absent of the Connecticut amendment. Instead, the Nevada legislature increased the 24 super priority lien cap to an amount equal to 9 times the association's monthly assessments, up from 25 6 times, and also added unit repairs costs under NRS §116.310312 to the super priority lien.

26 Because Nevada and Colorado (and other states like Alaska, Minnesota, West Virginia, and 27 New Jersey) adopted the unaltered super priority language of the original 1982 UCIOA, and did not 28 adopt the Connecticut amendment, the current state of the law regarding super priority lien amounts in states which did not adopt the Connecticut amendment is as the Colorado courts have held: "The reference in section 3-116(b) to priority 'to the extent of' assessments which would have been due during the six months immediately preceding an action to enforce the lien" merely limits the

1 maximum amount of all fees or charges for common facilities use or for association services,
2 late charges and fines, and interest which can come with the Prioritized Lien...” First Atlantic
3 Mortg., LLC v. Sunstone North Homeowners Ass’n 121 P.3d 254, 255 -256 (Colo.App.,2005), and 4 “... the association's super-priority lien includes interest, charges, late charges, fines, and attorney
5 fees so long as the total does not exceed the limit.” BA Mortg., LLC v. Quail Creek Condominium
6 Ass’n, Inc. 192 P.3d 447, 451 (Colo.App.,2008).

7 Again, collection costs are not added on top of the 9 month amount (as in Connecticut,) but 8 may be incorporated within that amount (as in Nevada, Colorado, Alaska, Minnesota, West Virginia, 9 and New Jersey). While the Nevada legislature may, at some point in the future, wish to adopt the 10 Connecticut amendment, the current law in Nevada is as stated by the Colorado courts and James 11 Winokur’s commentary.

12 V.

13 CONCLUSION

14 This Petition requested action in two areas:

- 15 1. Pursuant to NRS §116.3116, what portion of a homeowners’ association lien, if any,
16 is superior to the unit’s first mortgage lender’s security interest (“super priority lien”) 17 and may the sum total of the super priority lien amount, whether it be comprised of 18 assessments, fees, costs of collection, or other charges, ever exceed 9 times the monthly assessment amount for common expenses based on the periodic budget adopted by the association pursuant to NRS §116.3115, plus any charges incurred by the association on a unit pursuant to NRS §116.310312 (unit repair expenses)?
- 19 2. Pursuant to NRS §116.3116, does a "super priority lien" exist in the absence of a 20 homeowners' association's failure to file a complaint with a court to enforce the lien, i.e., the failure to institute a “civil action” as defined by Nevada Rules of Civil 21 Procedure 2 and 3?

22 As the existing law makes clear, in Nevada, assessments, late fees, costs of collecting and 23 other charges may be included in the Super Priority Lien Amount. However, as the plain language
24 of NRS §116.3116 states, and as noted by the Colorado courts and James Winokur’s commentary, 25 there is a ceiling on the Super Priority Lien Amount of 9 times (6 times in other states) the 26 association’s monthly assessment amount for common expenses based on the periodic budget 27 adopted by the association (plus repair expenses pursuant to NRS §116.310312). In addition, the 28 total amount of assessments, late fees, costs of collecting and other charges may not exceed that ceiling in order to be considered a “super priority lien” rather than a “junior” lien. With the exception of the repair expenses pursuant to NRS §116.310312, the Super Priority Lien Amount is limited to a finite number, i.e., an amount which cannot exceed a figure equaling 9 times the monthly assessments which immediately preceding institution of an action to enforce the lien.

Additionally, as a “condition precedent” to elevate a portion of a homeowners’ association’s lien from “junior” status to “super priority” status, a homeowners’ association must file an “action” to enforce the lien. Nevada Rules of Civil Procedure 2 states, “There shall be one form of action to be known as ‘civil action.’” Nevada Rules of Civil Procedure 3 states, “A civil action is commenced by filing a complaint with the court.” Thus, until a homeowners’ association files a complaint with the court to enforce its lien, no amount of its lien can achieve “super priority” status. Therefore, while the lien remains a lien on the homeowner’s unit, it is in “junior” status to the first security holder’s deed of trust. Thus, until the filing of a complaint with the court to enforce its lien, upon the first mortgage holder’s foreclosure, the association’s junior lien is extinguished in its entirety. Pursuant to NRS §116.3116, a homeowners’ association’s filing of a complaint with the court to enforce its lien is a condition precedent for any portion of its lien to achieve “super priority” status.

Dated this 25 day of June, 2010.

DECLARATORY ORDER AND ADVISORY OPINION REGARDING COLLECTION AGENCY FEES FROM HOMEOWNER ASSOCIATION LIENS
FOLLOWING FORECLOSURE

DECLARATORY ORDER AND ADVISORY OPINION REGARDING COLLECTION AGENCY FEES FROM HOMEOWNER
ASSOCIATION LIENS FOLLOWING FORECLOSURE

Nevada, Department of Business and Industry, Financial Institutions Division (hereinafter "Division") hereby issues its Declaratory Order and Advisory Opinion regarding Petitioner PREM INVESTMENTS, LLC (hereafter "the Petitioner") regarding the collection of fees and charges by collection agencies and community managers for homeowners associations following the foreclosure of residential real estate.

JURISDICTION

1. The business of collecting claims for others or of soliciting the right to collect or receive payment from another of any claim in the State of Nevada is governed by chapter 649 of the Nevada Revised Statutes (NRS) and chapter 649 of the Nevada Administrative Code (NAC). The State of Nevada, Department of Business and Industry, Financial Institutions Division (hereinafter "Division") has primary jurisdiction for the licensing and regulation of persons operating and/or engaging in collection services. NRS 649.026.

1 2. The rule regarding the issuing of Declaratory Orders and Advisory Opinions by 2 this agency are governed by NRS 233B.120, which reads as follows:

3 Each agency shall provide by regulation for the filing and prompt 4 disposition of petitions for declaratory orders and advisory 5 opinions as to the applicability of any statutory provision, agency
6 regulation or decision of the agency. Declaratory orders disposing 7 of petitions in such cases shall have the same status as agency
8 decisions. A copy of the declaratory order or advisory opinion
9 shall be mailed to the petitioner.

10 3. The Nevada Administrative Code (NAC) 323.040(1) establishes the procedure 11 for filing a petition for declaratory order as follows:

12 Except as otherwise provided in subsection 4, an interested 13 person may petition the Director to issue a declaratory order or 14 advisory opinion concerning the applicability of a statute, 15 regulation or decision of the Department or any of its divisions.

16 4. Upon receipt by the Director, the petition is then referred to the Commissioner 17 for the Financial Institutions Division for determination. NAC 232.045.

18 FACTUAL BACKGROUND

19 5. Petitioner PREM INVESTMENTS, LLC is registered under the laws of the State 20 of Nevada and has submitted this Petition by and through its attorney, James Adams, Esq.
21 from the law firm Adams Law Group, Ltd.

22 6. On September 24, 2010, Petitioner filed its Petition for a Declaratory Order and 23 Advisory Opinion with the Division.

24 7. Petitioners present a factual scenario which is all too common in the State of 25 Nevada. A homeowner is unable to pay the mortgage and the monthly assessments to the 26 homeowners' association.

27 8. Two actions are initiated. The bank begins foreclosure proceedings on the 28 property.

9. At the same time, the homeowners association (hereafter "the association") initiates collection of its delinquent assessments by filing a lien on the property.

10. The property is sold at foreclosure, but the association's assessments continue because the association maintains a priority lien for its assessments.

11. The association's claim for assessments is sent to a collection agency or a community management company acting as a collection agency. When the bank attempts to sell the property, the new homeowner must pay the assessments and fees associated with the lien in order to obtain a clear title.

12. The lien includes additional fees and charges added by the collection agency, which often dwarf the amount of the original assessment.

13. Moreover, the fees being charged to the current homeowner or subsequent purchaser are generally not part of the collection contract between the agency and the association nor are they included in the governing documents of the association.

14. Therefore, the association never approves of the fees and charges added to the original assessment and fines charged to the homeowner who is subject to a lien or a subsequent purchaser at a foreclosure sale.

15. While the central focus of the issues raised by the Petition for Declaratory Order and Advisory Opinion concerns the priority of collection fees being charged, the Division has additional concerns regarding the undisclosed nature of these fees which are charged to homeowners and purchasers alike.

QUESTION PRESENTED:

16. The Petitioner presents the following question for an advisory opinion:

a. Under NRS 116.3116, a homeowners' association has a lien on a unit for any assessments levied against that unit and any fines imposed against the unit's owner from the time the assessment or fine becomes due. Pursuant to NRS 116.3116, what portion of the lien, if any, is superior to the unit's first mortgage lender's security interest ("super priority lien") and may the sum total of the super priority lien amount, whether it be comprised of assessments, fees, costs of collection or other charges, ever exceed 9 times the monthly assessment amount for common expenses based on the periodic budget adopted by the association pursuant to NRS 1116.3115 plus any charges incurred by the association on a unit pursuant to NRS 116.310312 (unit repair expenses)?

- b. Pursuant to NRS 116.3116, does a "super priority lien" exist in the absence of a homeowners' association's failure to file a complaint with the court to enforce the lien, i.e., the failure to institute a "civil action" as defined by Nevada Rules of Civil Procedure 2 and 3?

17. While the questions address an interpretation of NRS Chapter 116, the Division will address the issues as they relate to collection agencies and the implications of the federal Fair Debt Collection Practices Act (FDCPA), 15 U.S.C. § 1692f, prohibition against false, deceptive or misleading communications.

18. The federal Fair Debt Collection Practices Act (FDCPA) was made applicable to licensed collection agencies under NRS 649.370. More generally, a violation of the FDCPA can be considered a deceptive trade practice pursuant to NRS 598.023(3) which defines deceptive trade practice as "Violates a state or federal statute or regulation relating to the sale or lease of goods or services."

LEGAL ANALYSIS

19. NRS 649.020(3)(a) defines collection agency as including "a community manager while engaged in the management of a common-interest community or the management of an association of a condominium hotel if the community manager, or any employee, agent or affiliate of the community manager, performs or offers to perform any act associated with the foreclosure of a lien pursuant to NRS 116.31162 to 116.31168, inclusive, or 116B.635 to 116B.660, inclusive."

20. As a collection agency, any "interest, charge, fee or expense" added to the principal obligation must be "authorized by law or as agreed to by the parties." NRS 649.375(2).

1 21. As the associations have not established amounts of fees for collection 2 services in their governing documents and collection agency contracts do not include the 3 type and amount of fees which will be collected, the analysis of the questions presented will 4 focus on what, if any, is permitted by law to be collected.

5 A. Is the amount of the "super priority" lien established pursuant to NRS 6 116.3116 capped at the amount of 9 months of assessments?

7 22. Pursuant to NRS 116.3116(1), the association can impose a lien for 8 assessments and the fees and late charges for those assessments.

9 The association has a lien on a unit for any construction penalty
10 that is imposed against the unit's owner pursuant to NRS
11 116.310305, any assessment levied against that unit or any fines
12 imposed against the unit's owner from the time the construction 13 penalty, assessment or fine becomes due. Unless the 14 declaration otherwise provides, any penalties, fees, charges, 15 late charges, fines and interest charged pursuant to 16 paragraphs (i) to (n), inclusive, of subsection 1 of NRS
17 116.3102 are enforceable as assessments under this section.
18 If an assessment is payable in installments, the full amount of the 19 assessment is a lien from the time the first installment thereof 20 becomes due.

21 23. The association can impose a lien on assessments which have priority over the 22 first mortgage on the real property. However, the lien amount is not without limits and the 23 statute is clear that the amount of a lien which retains its priority status is "to the extent" that 24 those assessments would have become due in the preceding nine (9) months prior to 25 enforcement of the lien. NRS 116.3116(2) reads in part as follows:

26 The lien is also prior to all security interests described in 27 paragraph (b) to the extent of any charges incurred by the 28 association on a unit pursuant to NRS 116.310312 and to the extent of the assessments for common expenses based on the periodic budget adopted by the association pursuant to NRS 116.3115 which would have become due in the absence of acceleration during the 9 months immediately preceding institution of an action to enforce the lien, This subsection does not affect the priority of mechanics' or materialmen's liens, or

1 the priority of liens for other assessments made by the
2 association.

3 24. NRS 116.3116(1) includes as part of the lien for assessments fees, charges, 4 interest and costs which are permitted by NRS 116.3102(1)(n). That statute permits the 5 addition of fees by "the association" which are "reasonable" charges for the preparation and 6 recordation of any amendments to the declaration or any statements of unpaid 7 assessments, and impose reasonable fees, not to exceed the amounts authorized by 8 NRS 116.4109, for preparing and furnishing the documents and certificate required by that 9 section." NRS 116.3102(1)(n).

10 25. The types of charges authorized by NRS 116.4109 are extensive. The list of 11 charges which can be collected, include, "any transfer fees, transaction fees or any other 12 fees associated with the resale of a unit," NRS 116.4109(1)(e), and "association fees, fines, 13 assessments, late charges or penalties, interest rates on delinquent assessments, additional 14 costs for collecting past due fines and charges for opening or closing any file for each unit."
15 NRS 116.4109(1)(f).

16 26. Since the statute includes the additional fees and charges as part of the "super 17 priority" lien, then those fees, charges, interest and penalties, as stated above, are also 18 subject to the nine (9) month assessment limitation established in NRS 116.3116(2).

19 27. As the Petitioner points out, numerous policy reasons exist to limit the amount 20 which has priority not the least of which is to provide needed understanding by the first 21 mortgage holder that its security interest in the property is not reduced by assessments and 22 the unlimited amount of fees, charges, interest, penalties, fines and interest imposed by the 23 association or its collection agent.

24 28. Further, Petitioner is correct in stating that the remainder of the lien is not 25 removed from the property, but only the priority status over the first mortgage holder.

26 29. The Division adopts the interpretation that NRS 116.3116(2) is a limit on the 27 amount an association can place a lien which has priority over the first mortgage holder.
28

1 30. While the Petitioner refers to this amount as "9 times" the monthly assessment
2 by the association, that statement would not be entirely correct because changes in the 3 amount of assessments may occur during the time period. The amount of the lien which has 4 priority over the first mortgage cannot exceed what the association would have regularly 5 charged for common expenses for the unit in the nine (9) months prior to the institution of an 6 action to enforce a lien.

7 31. Any balance exceeding the nine (9) month limitation would be subordinate to 8 the first mortgage holder's security interest.

9 32. Consequently, pursuant to the requirements of NRS 649.375(2)(a), the only 10 charges "authorized by law" to collect after the foreclosure of the first mortgage are those 11 that do not exceed the amount charged over the preceding nine (9) months of normal 12 association assessments.

13 33. The Division further concludes that additional fees and charges can be 14 included in the "super priority" lien as permitted by statute but the total of all of the amounts 15 cannot exceed the nine (9) month assessment limitation.

16 34. While the associations and their collection agencies should be mindful that the 17 charges must be reasonable, the Division concludes that collection agencies are not 18 permitted to add fees of any amount without the expressed approval of the association.

19 35. As the statutes cited above make clear, the association is the entity required to 20 impose the fees and charges, not its collection agency. NRS 116.3116(1) ("The 21 association has the lien"); NRS 116.3102(1) ("the association may do any or all of the 22 following ..."); NRS 116.4109(3) ("the association shall furnish all of the following to the 23 unit's owner or his or her authorized agent for inclusion in the resale package ...").

24 36. Consequently, no additional collection charges are "permitted by law" unless 25 they are first approved by the association.

26 37. NRS 649.375(2) prohibits the collection of "interest, charge, fee or expense"
27 which is not "authorized by law or as agreed to by the parties..."

1 38. A similar requirement exists in the federal Fair Debt Collection Practices Act
2 (FDCPA), 15 U.S.C. § 1692f(1) defining an "unfair practice" as "[t]he collection of amount 3 (including any interest, fee, charge or expense incidental to the principal obligation) unless 4 such amount is expressly authorized by the agreement creating the debt or permitted by 5 law."

6 39. As stated above, the association is permitted to make additional charges to the 7 assessments for the collection of assessments, however, the statute requires that the 8 association approve the charge, and it may not leave it to the collection agency to determine 9 the amount of fees it may collect.

10 40. The collection agencies are operating as agents of the homeowners'
11 association and it is a relationship based upon contract. Hamm v. Arrowcreek Homeowners'
12 Ass'n, 183 P.3d 895, 902 (Nev. 2008) ("An agency relationship results when one person 13 possesses the contractual right to control another's manner of performing the duties for 14 which he or she was hired.") However, the collection agency, alone, does not have the 15 power to create and impose fees, where, as here, the statutes have delegated that authority 16 to the association.

17 41. Therefore, the Division further concludes that if any charges or fees are added 18 to the assessments to be charged pursuant to NRS 116.3102, or added to a lien pursuant to 19 NRS 116.3116, then those fees, interest and charges must have been expressly approved 20 by the association pursuant to its governing documents or in the contract with the collection 21 agency prior to the time those fees, charges, interest, costs and penalties were incurred.

22 B. Is the association required to file a civil action prior to asserting its lien for 23 assessments with "super priority" status?

24 42. Petitioner requests clarification of what is meant by the "action" in NRS
25 116.3116 in order to determine the "super priority" status of the association's lien. As above 26 NRS 116.3116(2) reads, in part, as follows:
27

1 The lien is also prior to all security interests described in
2 paragraph (b) to the extent of any charges incurred by the
3 association on a unit pursuant to NRS 116.310312 and to the
4 extent of the assessments for common expenses based on
5 the periodic budget adopted by the association pursuant to 6 NRS 116.3115 which would have become due in the absence
7 of acceleration during the 9 months immediately preceding
8 institution of an action to enforce the lien, This subsection
9 does not affect the priority of mechanics' or materialmen's liens, or 10 the priority of liens for other assessments made by the 11 association.

12 43. Petitioner's claim that the language "institution of an action to enforce the lien" 13 creates a statutory requirement that the association is required to file a civil action before the 14 lien can achieve priority status. The Division disagrees. Nothing in the statute would 15 indicate an intent to require a court action to secure priority status during the non-judicial 16 foreclosure process.

17 44. As the Nevada Supreme Court stated, in order to determine what is meant by a 18 term, an examination of the context and spirit of the statute is necessary.

19 To clarify a statute's ambiguity, we look at the "context" and "spirit"
20 in which it was enacted to effect a construction that best 21 represents the legislative intent in enacting the statute. Boucher v.
22 Shaw, 124 Nev. 96, —, 196 P.3d 959, 961 (2008). Our goal is to 23 read "statutes within a statutory scheme harmoniously with one 24 another to avoid an unreasonable or absurd result." Allstate
25 Insurance Co. v. Fackett, 206 P.3d 572, 576 (2009).

26 Citizens for Cold Springs v. City of Reno, 218 P.3d 847, 851 (Nev., 2009)(citations included)..

27 45. In the present case, the term "action" appears at the conclusion of the point of 28 measurement for the limitation period in order to determine when to begin the nine (9) month period.

46. In no other part of NRS 116.3116 does the statute mention any civil action requirement for either the creation of the lien or its status of priority. NRS 116.3116(1)

Subject: Super Priority Lien Advisory Opinion

Good Morning Mr. Adams:

I tried reaching you telephonically a few moments ago but was not able to leave a voice message. I was calling to give you a status update on the advisory opinion you previously requested of this office concerning the super priority lien.

As you may know, I will be leaving my position as Director of Business & Industry for an appointment as a Member of the State Gaming Control Board, starting November 13, 2012. However, before leaving I wanted to ensure that the issues presented in the advisory opinion petition were appropriately addressed.

In light of the Court's ruling earlier this year in the matter of State of Nevada, Financial Institutions Div. vs. Nevada Assn. Services, et al., it appears the appropriate entity to render the requested opinion would be the Real Estate Division of the Department of Business & Industry.

Accordingly, I recently met with representatives of the Real Estate Division and their legal counsel to discuss the various advisory opinion requests that had been submitted, including yours, regarding the super priority lien. The determination was made that the Real Estate Division would issue an advisory opinion responsive to the questions presented in the various opinion requests. Please be advised that this advisory opinion should be finalized within the next 30-45 days.

Thanks,

TERRY JOHNSON

Dear Prem Investments:

In November, the prior Director of the Nevada Department of Business & Industry, Terry Johnson, informed you that your request for an advisory opinion from the Director's office was sent by Director Johnson to the Real Estate Division. Enclosed please find the Division's Advisory Opinion #13-01, issued in response to your request for an advisory opinion on the questions posed concerning the super priority lien in NRS 116.3116.

This advisory opinion will be posted on the Division's web site. It provides the Division's interpretation of NRS 116 statutes applicable to the questions posed.

Sincerely,

Subject: The Super Priority Lien	Advisory No. 13-01	20 pages
	Issued By: Real Estate Division

Reference(s): NRS 116.3102; ; NRS 116.310312; NRS 116.310313; NRS 116.3115; NRS 116.3116; NRS 116.31162; Commission for Common Interest Communities and Condominium Hotels Advisory Opinion No. 2010-01		Issue Date: December 12, 2012

QUESTION #1:

Pursuant to NRS 116.3116, may the portion of the association's lien which is superior to a unit's first security interest (referred to as the "super priority lien") contain "costs of collecting" defined by NRS 116.310313?

QUESTION #2:

Pursuant to NRS 116.3116, may the sum total of the super priority lien ever exceed 9 times the monthly assessment amount for common expenses based on the periodic budget adopted by the association pursuant to NRS 116.3115, plus charges incurred by the association on a unit pursuant to NRS 116.310312?

QUESTION #3:

Pursuant to NRS 116.3116, must the association institute a "civil action" as defined by Nevada Rules of Civil Procedure 2 and 3 in order for the super priority lien to exist?

SHORT ANSWER TO #1:

No. The association's lien does not include "costs of collecting" defined by NRS 116.310313, so the super priority portion of the lien may not include such costs. NRS 116.310313 does not say such charges are a lien on the unit, and NRS 116.3116 does not make such charges part of the association's lien.

SHORT ANSWER TO #2:

No. The language in NRS 116.3116(2) defines the super priority lien. The super priority lien consists of unpaid assessments based on the association's budget and NRS 116.310312 charges, nothing more. The super priority lien is limited to: (1) 9 months of assessments; and (2) charges allowed by NRS 116.310312. The super priority lien based on assessments may not exceed 9 months of assessments as reflected in the association's budget, and it may not include penalties, fees, late charges, fines, or interest. References in NRS 116.3116(2) to assessments and charges pursuant to NRS 116.310312 define the super priority lien, and are not merely to determine a dollar amount for the super priority lien.

SHORT ANSWER TO #3:

No. The association must take action to enforce its super priority lien, but it need not institute a civil action by the filing of a complaint. The association may begin the process for foreclosure in NRS 116.31162 or exercise any other remedy it has to enforce the lien.

ANALYSIS OF THE ISSUES:

This advisory opinion – provided in accordance with NRS 116.623 – details the Real Estate Division's opinion as to the interpretation of NRS 116.3116(1) and (2). The Division hopes to help association boards understand the meaning of the statute so they are better equipped to represent the interests of their members. Associations are encouraged to look at the entirety of a situation surrounding a particular deficiency and evaluate the association's best option for collection. The first step in that analysis is to understand what constitutes the association's lien, what is not part of the lien, and the status of the lien compared to other liens recorded against the unit.

Subsection (1) of NRS 116.3116 describes what constitutes the association's lien; and subsection (2) states the lien's priority compared to other liens recorded against a unit. NRS 116.3116 comes from the Uniform Common Interest Ownership Act (1982) (the "Uniform Act"), which Nevada adopted in 1991. So, in addition to looking at the language of the relevant Nevada statute, this analysis includes references to the Uniform Act's equivalent provision (§ 3-116) and its comments.

I. NRS 116.3116(1) DEFINES WHAT THE ASSOCIATION'S LIEN CONSISTS OF.

NRS 116.3116(1) provides generally for the lien associations have against units within common-interest communities. NRS 116.3116(1) states as follows:

The association has a lien on a unit for any construction penalty that is imposed against the unit's owner pursuant to NRS 116.310305, any assessment levied against that unit or any fines imposed against the unit's owner from the time the construction penalty, assessment or fine becomes due. Unless the declaration otherwise provides, any penalties, fees, charges, late charges, fines and interest charged pursuant to paragraphs (j) to (n), inclusive, of subsection 1 of NRS 116.3102 are enforceable as assessments under this section. If an assessment is payable in installments, the full amount of the assessment is a lien from the time the first installment thereof becomes due.

(emphasis added).

Based on this provision, the association's lien includes assessments, construction penalties, and fines imposed against a unit when they become due. In addition – unless the declaration otherwise provides – penalties, fees, charges, late charges, fines, and interest charged pursuant to NRS 116.3102(1)(j) through (n) are also part of the association's lien in that such items are enforceable as if they were assessments. Assessments can be foreclosed pursuant to NRS 116.31162, but liens for fines and penalties may not be foreclosed unless they satisfy the requirements of NRS 116.31162(4). Therefore, it is important to accurately categorize what comprises each portion of the association's lien to evaluate enforcement options.

A. "COSTS OF COLLECTING" (DEFINED BY NRS 116.310313) ARE NOT PART OF THE ASSOCIATION'S LIEN

NRS 116.3116(1) does not specifically make costs of collecting part of the association's lien, so the determination must be whether such costs can be included under the incorporated provisions of NRS 116.3102. NRS 116.3102(1)(j) through (n) identifies five very specific categories of penalties, fees, charges, late charges, fines, and interest associations may impose. This language encompasses all penalties, fees, charges, late charges, fines, and interest that are part of the lien described in NRS 116.3116(1).

NRS 116.3102(1)(j) through (n) states:

1. Except as otherwise provided in this section, and subject to the provisions of the declaration, the association may do any or all of the following: ...

(j) Impose and receive any payments, fees or charges for the use, rental or operation of the common elements, other than limited common elements described in subsections 2 and 4 of NRS 116.2102, and for services provided to the units' owners, including, without limitation, any services provided pursuant to NRS 116.310312.

(k) Impose charges for late payment of assessments pursuant to NRS 116.3115.

(l) Impose construction penalties when authorized pursuant to NRS 116.310305.

(m) Impose reasonable fines for violations of the governing documents of the association only if the association complies with the requirements set forth in NRS 116.31031.

(n) Impose reasonable charges for the preparation and recordation of any amendments to the declaration or any statements of unpaid assessments, and impose reasonable fees, not to exceed the amounts authorized by NRS 116.4109, for preparing and furnishing the documents and certificate required by that section.

Whatever charges the association is permitted to impose by virtue of these provisions are part of the association's lien. Subsection (k) – emphasized above – has been used – the Division believes improperly – to support the conclusion that associations may include costs of collecting past due obligations as part of the association's lien. The Commission for Common Interest Communities and Condominium Hotels issued Advisory Opinion No. 2010-01 in December of 2010. The Commission's advisory concludes as follows:

An association may collect as a part of the super priority lien (a) interest permitted by NRS 116.3115, (b) late fees or charges authorized by the declaration, (c) charges for preparing any statements of unpaid assessments and (d) the "costs of collecting" authorized by NRS 116.310313.

Analysis of what constitutes the super priority lien portion of the association's lien is discussed in Section III, but the Division agrees that the association's lien does include items noted as (a), (b) and (c) of the Commission's advisory opinion above. To support item (d), the Commission relies on NRS 116.3102(1)(k) which gives associations the power to: "Impose charges for late payment of assessments pursuant to NRS 116.3115." This language would include interest authorized by statute and late fees if authorized by the association's declaration.

"Costs of collecting" defined by NRS 116.310313 is too broad to fall within the parameters of charges for late payment of assessments.¹ By definition, "costs of collecting" relate to the collection of past due "obligations." "Obligations" are defined as "any assessment, fine, construction penalty, fee, charge or interest levied or imposed against a unit's owner."² In other words, costs of collecting includes more than "charges for late payment of assessments."³ Therefore, the plain language of NRS 116.3116(1) does not incorporate costs of collecting into the association's lien. Further review of the relevant statutes and legislative action supports this conclusion.

B. PRIOR LEGISLATIVE ACTION SUPPORTS THE POSITION THAT COSTS OF COLLECTING ARE NOT PART OF THE ASSOCIATION'S LIEN DESCRIBED BY NRS 116.3116(1).

The language of NRS 116.3116(1) allows for "charges for late payment of assessments" to be part of the association's lien.⁴ "Charges for late payments" is not the same as "costs of collecting." "Costs of collecting" was first defined in NRS 116 by the adoption of NRS 116.310313 in 2009. NRS 116.310313(1) provides for the association's right to charge a unit owner “reasonable fees to cover the costs of collecting any past due obligation.” NRS 116.310313 is not referenced in NRS 116.3116 or NRS 116.3102, nor does NRS 116.310313 specifically provide for the association’s right to lien the unit for such costs.

³ "Costs of collecting" includes any fee, charge or cost, by whatever name, including, without limitation, any collection fee, filing fee, recording fee, fee related to the preparation, recording or delivery of a lien or lien rescission, title search lien fee, bankruptcy search fee, referral fee, fee for postage or delivery and any other fee or cost that an association charges a unit's owner for the investigation, enforcement or collection of a past due obligation. The term does not include any costs incurred by an association if a lawsuit is filed to enforce any past due obligation or any costs awarded by a court. NRS 116.310313(3)(a).

In contrast, NRS 116.310312, also adopted in 2009, allows an association to enter the grounds of a unit to maintain the property or abate a nuisance existing on the exterior of the unit. NRS 116.310312 specifically provides for the association’s expenses to be a lien on the unit and provides that the lien is prior to the first security interest.⁵ NRS 116.3102(1)(j) was amended to allow these expenses to be part of the lien described in NRS 116.3116(1). And NRS 116.3116(2) was amended to allow these expenses to be included in the association’s super priority lien.

The Commission’s advisory opinion from December 2010 also relies on changes to the Uniform Act from 2008 to support the notion that collection costs should be part of the association’s super priority lien. Nevada has not adopted those changes to the Uniform Act. Since the Commission’s advisory opinion, the Nevada Legislature had an opportunity to clarify the law in this regard.

In 2011, the Nevada Legislature considered Senate Bill 174, which proposed changes to NRS 116.3116. S.B. 174 originally included changes to NRS 116.3116(1) such that the association’s lien would specifically include “costs of collecting” as defined in NRS 116.310313. S.B. 174 proposed changes to NRS 116.3116 (1) and (2) to bring the statute in line with the changes to the same provision in the Uniform Act amended in 2008.

The Uniform Act’s amendments were removed from S.B. 174 by the first reprint. As amended, S.B. 174 proposed changes to NRS 116.3116(2) expanding the super priority lien amount to include costs of collecting not to exceed $1,950, in addition to 9 months of assessments. S.B. 174 was discussed in great detail and ultimately died in committee.⁶

Also in 2011, Senate Bill 204 – as originally introduced – included changes to NRS 116.3116(1) to expand the association's lien to include attorney's fees and costs and "any other sums due to the association."⁷ The bill's language was taken from the Uniform Act amendments in 2008. All changes to NRS 116.3116(1) were removed from the bill prior to approval.

The Nevada Legislature's actions in the 2009 and 2011 sessions are indicative of its intent not to make costs of collecting part of the lien. The Nevada Legislature could have made the costs of collecting part of the association's lien, like it did for costs under NRS 116.310312. It did not do so. In order for the association to have a right to lien a unit under NRS 116.3116(1), the charge or expense must fall within a category listed in the plain language of the statute. Costs of collecting do not fall within that language. Based on the foregoing, the Division concludes that the association's lien does not include "costs of collecting" as defined by NRS 116.310313.

A possible concern regarding this outcome could be that an association may not be able to recover their collection costs relating to a foreclosure of an assessment lien. While that may seem like an unreasonable outcome, a look at the bigger picture must be considered to put it in perspective. NRS 116.31162 through NRS 116.31168, inclusive, outlines the association's ability to enforce its lien through foreclosure. Associations have a lien for assessments that is enforced through foreclosure. The association's expenses are reimbursed to the association from the proceeds of the sale. NRS 116.31164(3)(c) allows the proceeds of the foreclosure sale to be distributed in the following order:

- (1) The reasonable expenses of sale;

⁶ See <http://leg.state.nv.us/Session/76th2011/Reports/history.cfm?ID=423>.

⁷ Senate Bill No. 204 – Senator Copening, Sec. 49, ln. 1-16, February 28, 2011.

- (2) The reasonable expenses of securing possession before sale, holding, maintaining, and preparing the unit for sale, including payment of taxes and other governmental charges, premiums on hazard and liability insurance, and, to the extent provided for by the declaration, reasonable attorney's fees and other legal expenses incurred by the association;
- (3) Satisfaction of the association's lien;
- (4) Satisfaction in the order of priority of any subordinate claim of record; and
- (5) Remittance of any excess to the unit's owner.

Subsections (1) and (2) allow the association to receive its expenses to enforce its lien through foreclosure before the association's lien is satisfied. Obviously, if there are no proceeds from a sale or a sale never takes place, the association has no way to collect its expenses other than through a civil action against the unit owner. Associations must consider this consequence when making decisions regarding collection policies understanding that every delinquent assessment may not be treated the same.

II. NRS 116.3116(2) ESTABLISHES THE PRIORITY OF THE ASSOCIATION'S LIEN.

Having established that the association has a lien on the unit as described in subsection (1) of NRS 116.3116, we now turn to subsection (2) to determine the lien's priority in relation to other liens recorded against the unit. The lien described by NRS 116.3116(1) is what is referred to in subsection (2). Understanding the priority of the lien is an important consideration for any board of directors looking to enforce the lien through foreclosure or to preserve the lien in the event of foreclosure by a first security interest.

NRS 116.3116(2) provides that the association's lien is prior to all other liens recorded against the unit except: liens recorded against the unit before the declaration; first security interests (first deeds of trust); and real estate taxes or other governmental assessments. There is one exception to the exceptions, so to speak, when it comes to priority of the association's lien. This exception makes a portion of an association's lien prior to the first security interest. The portion of the association's lien given priority status to a first security interest is what is referred to as the "super priority lien" to distinguish it from the other portion of the association's lien that is subordinate to a first security interest.

The ramifications of the super priority lien are significant in light of the fact that superior liens, when foreclosed, remove all junior liens. An association can foreclose its super priority lien and the first security interest holder will either pay the super priority lien amount or lose its security. NRS 116.3116 is found in the Uniform Act at § 3-116. Nevada adopted the original language from § 3-116 of the Uniform Act in 1991. From its inception, the concept of a super priority lien was a novel approach. The Uniform Act comments to § 3-116 state:

[A]s to prior first security interests the association's lien does have priority for 6 months' assessments based on the periodic budget. A significant departure from existing practice, the 6 months' priority for the assessment lien strikes an equitable balance between the need to enforce collection of unpaid assessments and the obvious necessity for protecting the priority of the security interests of lenders. As a practical matter, secured lenders will most likely pay the 6 months' assessments demanded by the association rather than having the association foreclose on the unit. If the lender wishes, an escrow for assessments can be required.

This comment on § 3-116 illustrates the intent to allow for 6 months of assessments to be prior to a first security interest. The reason this was done was to accommodate the association's need to enforce collection of unpaid assessments. The controversy surrounding the super priority lien is in defining its limit. This is an important consideration for an association looking to enforce its lien. There is little benefit to an association if it incurs expenses pursuing unpaid assessments that will be eliminated by an imminent foreclosure of the first security interest. As stated in the comment, it is also likely that the holder of the first security interest will pay the super priority lien amount to avoid foreclosure by the association.

III. THE AMOUNT OF THE SUPER PRIORITY LIEN IS LIMITED BY THE PLAIN LANGUAGE OF NRS 116.3116(2).

NRS 116.3116(2) states:

A lien under this section is prior to all other liens and encumbrances on a unit except:

(a) Liens and encumbrances recorded before the recordation of the declaration and, in a cooperative, liens and encumbrances which the association creates, assumes or takes subject to;

(b) A first security interest on the unit recorded before the date on which the assessment sought to be enforced became delinquent or, in a cooperative, the first security interest encumbering only the unit's owner's interest and perfected before the date on which the assessment sought to be enforced became delinquent; and

(c) Liens for real estate taxes and other governmental assessments or charges against the unit or cooperative.

The lien is also prior to all security interests described in paragraph (b) to the extent of any charges incurred by the association on a unit pursuant to NRS 116.310312 and to the extent of the assessments for common expenses based on the periodic budget adopted by the association pursuant to NRS 116.3115 which would have become due in the absence of acceleration during the 9 months immediately preceding institution of an action to enforce the lien. unless federal regulations adopted by the Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corporation or the Federal National Mortgage Association require a shorter period of priority for the lien. If federal regulations adopted by the Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corporation or the Federal National Mortgage Association require a shorter period of priority for the lien, the period during which the lien is prior to all security interests described in paragraph (b) must be determined in accordance with those federal regulations, except that notwithstanding the provisions of the federal regulations, the period of priority for the lien must not be less than the 6 months immediately preceding institution of an action to enforce the lien. This subsection does not affect the priority of mechanics' or materialmen's liens, or the priority of liens for other assessments made by the association.

Having found previously that costs of collecting are not part of the lien means they are not part of the super priority lien. The question then becomes what can be included as part of the super priority lien. Prior to 2009, the super priority lien was limited to 6 months of assessments. In 2009, the Nevada legislature changed the 6 months of assessments to 9 months and added expenses for abatement under NRS 116.310312 to the super priority lien amount. But to the extent federal law applicable to the first security interest limits the super priority lien, the super priority lien is limited to 6 months of assessments.

The emphasized language in the portion of the statute above identifies the portion of the association's lien that is prior to the first security interest, i.e. what comprises the super priority lien. This language states that there are two components to the super priority lien. The first is "to the extent of any charges" incurred by the association pursuant to NRS 116.310312. NRS 116.310312(4) makes clear that the charges assessed against the unit pursuant to this section are a lien on the unit and subsection (6) makes it clear that such lien is prior to first security interests. These costs are also specifically part of the lien described in NRS 116.3116(1) incorporated through NRS 116.3102(1)(j). This portion of the super priority lien is specific to charges incurred pursuant to NRS 116.310312. Payment of those charges relieves their super priority lien status. There does not seem to be any confusion as to what this part of the super priority lien is. Analysis of the super priority lien will focus on the second portion.

A. THE SUPER PRIORITY LIEN ATTRIBUTABLE TO ASSESSMENTS IS LIMITED TO 9 MONTHS OF ASSESSMENTS AND CONSISTS ONLY OF ASSESSMENTS.

The second portion of the super priority lien is "to the extent of the assessments for common expenses based on the periodic budget adopted by the association pursuant to NRS 116.3115 which would have become due in the absence of acceleration during the 9 months immediately preceding institution of an action to enforce the lien."

The statute uses the language "to the extent of the assessments" to illustrate that there is a limit on the amount of the super priority lien, just like the language concerning expenses pursuant to NRS 116.310312, but this portion concerns assessments. The limit on the super priority lien is based on the assessments for common expenses reflected in a budget adopted pursuant to NRS 116.3115 which would have become due in 9 months. The assessment portion of the super priority lien is no different than the portion derived from NRS 116.310312. Each portion of the super priority lien is limited to the specific charge stated and nothing else.

Therefore, while the association's lien may include any penalties, fees, charges, late charges, fines and interest charged pursuant to NRS 116.3102 (1) (j) to (n), inclusive, the total amount of the super priority lien attributed to assessments is no more than 9 months of the monthly assessment reflected in the association's budget. Association budgets do not reflect late charges or interest attributed to an anticipated delinquent owner, so there is no basis to conclude that such charges could be included in the super priority lien or in addition to the assessments. Such extraneous charges are not included in the association's super priority lien.

NRS 116.3116 originally provided for 6 months of assessments as the super priority lien. Comments to the Uniform Act quoted previously support the conclusion that the original intent was for 6 months of the assessments alone to comprise the super priority lien amount and not the penalties, charges, or interest. It is possible that an argument could be made that the language is so clear in this regard one should not look to legislative intent. But considering the controversy surrounding the meaning of this statute, the better argument is that legislative intent should be used to determine the meaning.

The Commission's advisory opinion of December 2010 concluded that assessments and additional costs are part of the super priority lien. The Commission's advisory opinion relies in part on a Wake Forest Law Review⁸ article from 1992 discussing the Uniform Act. This article actually concludes that the Uniform Act language limits the amount of the super priority lien to 6 months of assessments, but that the super priority lien does not necessarily consist of only delinquent assessments.⁹ It can include fines, interest, and late charges.¹⁰ The concept here is that all parts of the lien are prior to a first security interest and that reference to assessments for the super priority lien is only to define a specific dollar amount.

The Division disagrees with this interpretation because of the unreasonable consequences it leaves open. For example, a unit owner may pay the delinquent assessment amount leaving late charges and interest as part of the super priority lien. If the super priority lien can encompass more than just delinquent assessments in this situation, it would give the association the right to foreclose its lien consisting only of late charges and interest prior to the first security interest. It is also unreasonable to expect that fines (which cannot be foreclosed generally) survive a foreclosure of the first security interest. Either the lender or the new buyer would be forced to pay the prior owner's fines. The Division does not find that these consequences are reasonable or intended by the drafters of the Uniform Act or by the Nevada Legislature. Even the 2008 revisions to the Uniform Act do not allow for anything other than assessments and costs incurred to foreclose the lien to be included in the super priority lien. Fines, interest, and late charges are not costs the association incurs.

In 2009, the Nevada Legislature revised NRS 116.3116 to expand the association's super priority lien. Assembly Bill 204 sought to extend the super priority lien of 6 months of assessments to 2 years of assessments.¹¹ The Commission's chairman, Michael Buckley, testified on March 6, 2009 before the Assembly Committee on Judiciary on A.B. 204 that the law was unclear as to whether the 6 month priority can include the association's costs and attorneys' fees.¹² Mr. Buckley explained that the Uniform Act amendments in 2008 allowed for the collection of attorneys' fees and costs incurred by the association in foreclosing the assessment lien as part of the super priority lien. Mr. Buckley requested that the 2008 change to the Uniform Act be included in A.B. 204. Mr. Buckley's requested change to A.B. 204 to expand the super priority lien never made it into A.B. 204. Ultimately, A.B. 204 was adopted to change 6 months to 9 months, but commenting on the intent of the bill, Assemblywoman Ellen Spiegel stated:

Assessments covered under A.B. 204 are the regular monthly or quarterly dues for their home. I carefully put this bill together to make sure it did not include any assessments for penalties, fines or late fees. The bill covers the basic monies the association uses to build its regular budgets.

(emphasis added).¹³

It is significant that the legislative intent in changing 6 months to 9 months was with the understanding that no portion of that amount would be for penalties, fines, or late fees and that it only covers the basic monies associations use to build their regular budgets. It does make sense that a lien superior to a first security interest would not include penalties, fines, and interest. To say that the super priority lien includes more than just 9 months of assessments allows several undesirable and unreasonable consequences.

B. NEVADA HAS NOT ADOPTED AMENDMENTS TO THE UNIFORM ACT TO ALTER THE ORIGINAL INTENT OF THE SUPER PRIORITY LIEN.

The changes to the Uniform Act support the contention that only what is referenced as the super priority lien in NRS 116.3116(2) is what comprises the super priority lien. In 2008, § 3-116 of the Uniform Act was revised as follows:

¹² See Minutes of the Meeting of the Assembly Committee on Judiciary, Seventy-fifth Session, March 6, 2009 at 44-45.

¹³ See Minutes of the Senate Committee on Judiciary, Seventy-fifth Session, May 8, 2009 at 27.

SECTION 3-116. LIEN FOR ASSESSMENTS; SUMS DUE ASSOCIATION; ENFORCEMENT.

(a) The association has a statutory lien on a unit for any assessment levied ~~against~~ attributable to that unit or fines imposed against its unit owner. Unless the declaration otherwise provides, reasonable attorney's fees and costs, other fees, charges, late charges, fines, and interest charged pursuant to Section 3-102(a)(10), (11), and (12), and any other sums due to the association under the declaration, this [act], or as a result of an administrative, arbitration, mediation, or judicial decision are enforceable in the same manner as unpaid assessments under this section. If an assessment is payable in installments, the lien is for the full amount of the assessment from the time the first installment thereof becomes due.

(b) A lien under this section is prior to all other liens and encumbrances on a unit except:

~~(i)(1)~~ (i) liens and encumbrances recorded before the recordation of the declaration and, in a cooperative, liens and encumbrances ~~which that the~~ association creates, assumes, or takes subject to; ;

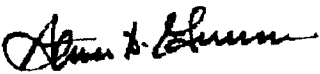

~~(ii)(2)~~ (ii) except as otherwise provided in subsection (c), a first security interest on the unit recorded before the date on which the assessment sought to be enforced became delinquent, or, in a cooperative, the first security interest encumbering only the unit owner's interest and perfected before the date on which the assessment sought to be enforced became delinquent; and

~~(iii)(3)~~ (iii) liens for real estate taxes and other governmental assessments or charges against the unit or cooperative.

(c) ~~A~~ The lien under this section is also prior to all security interests described in subsection (b)(2) clause (ii) above to the extent of both the common expense assessments based on the periodic budget adopted by the association pursuant to Section 3-115(a) which would have become due in the absence of acceleration during the six months immediately preceding institution of an action to enforce the lien and reasonable attorney's fees and costs incurred by the association in foreclosing the association's lien. ~~This subsection~~ Subsection (b) and this subsection do not affect the priority of mechanics' or materialmen's liens, or the priority of liens for other assessments made by the association. ~~[The A lien under this section is not subject to the provisions of [insert appropriate reference to state homestead, dower and curtesy, or other exemptions].]~~

Explaining the reason for the changes to these sections, the Uniform Act includes the following comments:

ORDER

22 This matter came before the Court on May 24, 2011 at 9:00 a.m., upon the Plaintiff's Motion
23 for Summary Judgment on Claim of Declaratory Relief. James R. Adams, Esq., of Adams Law
24 Group, Ltd., and Puoy K. Premsrirut, Esq., of Puoy K. Premsrirut, Esq., Inc., appeared on behalf of 25 the Plaintiff. Kurt Bonds, Esq., of Alverson, Taylor, Mortensen & Sanders appeared on behalf of 26 the Defendant. The Honorable Court, having read the briefs on file and having heard oral argument, 27 and for good cause appearing hereby rules:
28

1 WHEREAS the Parties have engaged in and have concluded a Nevada Real Estate Division
2 mediation (ADR #11-25) wherein the Parties mediated a dispute over the sum of $13,190.33; and

3 WHEREAS the subject of the mediation was whether NRS 116.3116 permitted Defendant
4 to charge to Plaintiff $14,037.83, or whether some lesser amount was due pursuant to NRS
5 116.3116; and

6 WHEREAS, the Court has determined that a justiciable controversy exists in this matter as 7 Defendant claims it has a right pursuant to NRS 116.3116 to charge and retain proceeds in the 8 amount $14,037.83 from Plaintiff and Plaintiff, a purchaser of a home at foreclosure which is located
9 within the Defendant homeowners' association, contests this charge and claims that Defendant 10 exceeded the limits of NRS 116.3116 and overcharged it for the super priority lien; and

11 WHEREAS there exists in this case a controversy in which a claim of right is asserted by 12 Plaintiff against Defendant who has an interest in contesting it; and

13 WHEREAS Plaintiff and Defendant, the contesting parties hereto, are clearly adverse and 14 hold different views regarding the meaning and applicability of NRS §116.3116 (including whether 15 Defendant charged too much for the super priority lien); and

16 WHEREAS Plaintiff has a legal interest in the controversy as it was Plaintiff's money which 17 had been demanded and transferred to Defendant and it was Plaintiff's property that had been the 18 subject of a homeowners' association lien by Defendant; and

19 WHEREAS the issue of the meaning, application and interpretation of NRS 116.3116 is ripe 20 for determination in this case as the present controversy is real, it exists now, and it affects the

22 WHEREAS, therefore, the Court finds that issuing a declaratory judgment relating to the 23 meaning and interpretation of NRS 116.3116 would terminate some of the uncertainty and

WHEREAS, pursuant to NRS 30.040 Plaintiff and Defendant are parties whose rights, status or other legal relations are affected by NRS 116.3116 and they may, therefore, have determined by this Court any question of construction or validity arising under NRS 116.3116 and obtain a declaration of rights, status or other legal relations thereunder;

THE COURT, THEREFORE, DECLARES, ORDERS, ADJUDGES AND DECREES as follows:

1. NRS 116.3116 is a statute which creates for the benefit of Nevada homeowners' associations a lien against a homeowner's unit for any construction penalty that is imposed against the unit's owner pursuant to NRS 116.310305, any assessment levied against that unit or any fines imposed against the unit's owner from the time the construction penalty, assessment or fine becomes due (the "Statutory Lien"). The homeowners' associations' Statutory Lien is noticed and perfected by the recording of the associations' declaration and, pursuant to NRS 116.3116(4), no further recordation of any claim of lien for assessment is required.
2. Pursuant to NRS 116.3116(2), the homeowners' association's Statutory Lien is junior to a first security interest on the unit recorded before the date on which the assessment sought to be enforced became delinquent ("First Security Interest") except for a portion of the homeowners' association's Statutory Lien which remains prior to the First Security Interest (the "Super Priority Lien").
3. Homeowners' associations, therefore, have a Super Priority Lien which has priority over the First Security Interest on a homeowners' unit. However, the Super Priority Lien amount is not without limits and NRS 116.3116 provides that the amount of the Super Priority Lien (i.e., that amount of a homeowners' associations' Statutory Lien which retains priority status over the First Security Interest) is limited "to the extent" of those assessments for common expenses based upon the associations' periodic budget that would have become due in the 9 month period immediately preceding an associations' institution of an action to enforce its Statutory Lien and "to the extent of" external repair costs pursuant to NRS 116.310312.

4. The words "to the extent of" contained in NRS 116.3116(2) mean "no more than," which clearly indicates a maximum figure or a cap on the Super Priority Lien which cannot be exceeded.

5. Therefore, after the foreclosure by a First Security Interest holder of a unit located within a homeowners' association, pursuant to NRS 116.3116 the monetary limit of a homeowners' association's Super Priority Lien is limited to a maximum amount equaling 9 times the homeowners' association's monthly assessment amount to unit owners for common expenses based on the periodic budget which would have become due immediately preceding the institution of an action to enforce the lien (the "Assessment Cap Figure") plus external repair costs pursuant to NRS 116.310312.

6. While assessments, penalties, fees, charges, late charges, fines and interest may be included within the Assessment Cap Figure, in no event can the total amount of the Assessment Cap Figure exceed an amount equaling 9 times the homeowners' association's monthly assessment amount to unit owners for common expenses based on the periodic budget which would have become due immediately preceding the institution of an action to enforce the lien.

7. The Super Priority Lien equals the Assessment Cap Figure plus external repair costs pursuant to NRS 116.310312.

8. After providing a homeowner with notice and hearing, NRS 116.310312 permits a homeowners' association to enter the grounds of a homeowners' unit and maintain the exterior of the unit in accordance with the standards set forth in the association's governing documents. Pursuant to NRS 116.310312(2)(b), a homeowners' association may also remove or abate a public nuisance on the exterior of a unit. The association may order that the costs of such maintenance or abatement, including interest, inspection fees, notification fees and collection costs for such maintenance or abatement to be charged against the unit ("Exterior Repair Costs"). NRS 116.310312(9)(a) provides that "Exterior" of the unit includes, without limitation, all landscaping outside of a unit and the exterior of all property exclusively owned by the unit owner.

9. Therefore, the Super Priority Lien consists solely and exclusively of the Assessment Cap Figure and the Exterior Repair Costs. No other costs, fees, fines, penalties, assessments, charges, late charges, or interest or any other costs may be included within the Super Priority Lien.

10. Pursuant to NRS 116.3116, the maximum amount of the Assessment Cap Figure portion of Defendant's Super Priority Lien cannot exceed $1,552.50 which equals 9 times the Defendant's monthly assessments. As Defendant has assessed against Plaintiff $1,552.50 for past due assessments incurred prior to Plaintiff's ownership of the property, the additional late fees of $135.00 and accrued interest on the Assessment Cap Figure are impermissible and cannot be included in the Assessment Cap Figure as the addition of those costs exceed the Assessment Cap Figure of $1,552.50 and violates NRS 116.3116.

ORDER

This matter came before the Court on December 12, 2011 at 9:00 a.m., upon the Plaintiff's Motion for Summary Judgment on Claim of Declaratory Relief and Defendant's Counter Motion for Summary Judgment on Claim of Declaratory Relief. James R. Adams, Esq., of Adams Law Group, Ltd., and Puoy K. Premsrirut, Esq., of Puoy K. Premsrirut, Esq., Inc., appeared on behalf of the Plaintiff. Eric Hinckley, Esq., of Alverson, Taylor, Mortensen & Sanders appeared on behalf of the Defendant. The Honorable Court, having read the briefs on file and having heard oral argument, and for good cause appearing hereby rules:

1 WHEREAS, the Court has determined that a justiciable controversy exists in this matter as
2 Plaintiff has asserted a claim of right under NRS §116.3116 (the "Super Priority Lien" statute)
3 against Defendant and Defendant has an interest in contesting said claim, the present controversy
4 is between persons or entities whose interests are adverse, both parties seeking declaratory relief
5 have a legal interest in the controversy (i.e., a legally protectible interest), and the issue involved in 6 the controversy (the meaning of NRS 116.3116) is ripe for judicial determination as between the 7 parties. Kress v. Corey 65 Nev. 1, 189 P.2d 352 (1948); and

8 WHEREAS Plaintiff and Defendant, the contesting parties hereto, are clearly adverse and 9 hold different views regarding the meaning and applicability of NRS §116.3116 (including whether 10 Defendant demanded from Plaintiff amounts in excess of that which is permitted under the NRS 11 §116.3116); and

12 WHEREAS Plaintiff has a legal interest in the controversy as it was Plaintiff's money which 13 had been demanded by Defendant and it was Plaintiff's property that had been the subject of a 14 homeowners' association statutory lien by Defendant; and

15 WHEREAS the issue of the meaning, application and interpretation of NRS §116.3116 is 16 ripe for determination in this case as the present controversy is real, it exists now, and it affects the 17 parties hereto; and

18 WHEREAS, therefore, the Court finds that issuing a declaratory judgment relating to the 19 meaning and interpretation of NRS §116.3116 would terminate some of the uncertainty and 20 controversy giving rise to the present proceeding; and

21 WHEREAS, pursuant to NRS §30.040 Plaintiff and Defendant are parties whose rights, 22 status or other legal relations are affected by NRS §116.3116 and they may, therefore, have 23 determined by this Court any question of construction or validity arising under NRS §116.3116 and 24 obtain a declaration of rights, status or other legal relations thereunder; and

25 WHEREAS, the Court is persuaded that Plaintiff's position is correct relative to the 26 components of the Super Priority Lien (exterior repair costs and 9 months of regular assessments)
27 and the cap relative to the regular assessments, but it is not persuaded relative to Plaintiff's position
28

1 concerning the need for a civil action to trigger a homeowners' association's entitlement to the Super 2 Priority Lien.

3 THE COURT, THEREFORE, DECLARES, ORDERS, ADJUDGES AND DECREES as
4 follows:

5 1. Plaintiff's Motion for Partial Summary Judgment on Declaratory Relief is granted in 6 part and Defendant's Motion for Summary Judgment on Declaratory Relief is granted 7 in part.

8 2. NRS §116.3116 is a statute which creates for the benefit of Nevada homeowners' 9 associations a general statutory lien against a homeowner's unit for (a) any 10 construction penalty that is imposed against the unit's owner pursuant to NRS
11 §116.310305, (b) any assessment levied against that unit, and (c) any fines imposed 12 against the unit's owner from the time the construction penalty, assessment or fine
13 becomes due (the "General Statutory Lien"). The homeowners' associations'
14 General Statutory Lien is noticed and perfected by the recording of the associations'
15 declaration and, pursuant to NRS §116.3116(4), no further recordation of any claim 16 of lien for assessment is required.

17 3. Pursuant to NRS §116.3116(2), the homeowners' association's General Statutory 18 Lien is junior to a first security interest on the unit recorded before the date on which 19 the assessment sought to be enforced became delinquent ("First Security Interest") 20 except for a portion of the homeowners' association's General Statutory Lien which 21 remains superior to the First Security Interest (the "Super Priority Lien").

22 4. Unless an association's declaration otherwise provides, any penalties, fees, charges, 23 late charges, fines and interest charged pursuant to NRS 116.3102(1)(j) to (n), 24 inclusive, are enforceable in the same manner as assessments are enforceable under 25 NRS §116.3116. Thus, while such penalties, fees, charges, late charges, fines and 26 interest are not actual "assessments," they may be enforced in the same manner as 27
28

1 assessments are enforced, i.e., by inclusion in the association's General Statutory 2 Lien against the unit.

3 5. Homeowners' associations, therefore, have a Super Priority Lien which has priority
4 over the First Security Interest on a homeowners' unit. However, the Super Priority
5 Lien amount is not without limits and NRS §116.3116 is clear that the amount of the 6 Super Priority Lien (which is that portion of a homeowners' associations' General
7 Statutory Lien which retains priority status over the First Security Interest) is limited 8 "to the extent" of those assessments for common expenses based upon the 9 association's adopted periodic budget that would have become due in the 9 month 10 period immediately preceding an association's institution of an action to enforce its 11 General Statutory Lien (which is 9 months of regular assessments) and "to the extent 12 of" external repair costs pursuant to NRS §116.310312.

13 6. The base assessment figure used in the calculation of the Super Priority Lien is the 14 unit's un-accelerated, monthly assessment figure for association common expenses 15 which is wholly determined by the homeowners association's "periodic budget," as 16 adopted by the association, and not determined by any other document or statute.
17 Thus, the phrase contained in NRS §116.3116(2) which states, "... to the extent of the 18 assessments for common expenses based on the periodic budget adopted by the 19 association pursuant to NRS 116.3115 which would have become due in the absence 20 of acceleration during the 9 months immediately preceding institution of an action 21 to enforce the lien..." means a maximum figure equaling 9 times the association's 22 regular, monthly (not annual) assessments. If assessments are paid quarterly, then 3
23 quarters of assessments (i.e., 9 months) would equal the Super Priority Lien, plus 24 external repair costs pursuant to NRS §116.310312.

25 7. The words "to the extent of" contained in NRS §116.3116(2) mean "no more than," 26 which clearly indicates a maximum figure or a cap on the Super Priority Lien which 27 cannot be exceeded.
28

1 8. Thus, while assessments, penalties, fees, charges, late charges, fines and interest may 2 be included within the Super Priority Lien, in no event can the total amount of the 3 Super Priority Lien exceed an amount equaling 9 times the homeowners'
4 association's regular monthly assessment amount to unit owners for common 5 expenses based on the periodic budget which would have become due immediately 6 preceding the association's institution of an action to enforce the lien, plus external 7 repair costs pursuant to NRS 116.310312.

8 9. Further, if regulations adopted by the Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corporation or 9 the Federal National Mortgage Association require a shorter period of priority for the 10 lien (i.e., shorter than 9 months of regular assessments,) the shorter period shall be 11 used in the calculation of the Super Priority Lien, except that notwithstanding the 12 provisions of the regulations, that shorter period used in the calculation of the Super 13 Priority Lien must not be less than the 6 months immediately preceding institution
14 of an action to enforce the lien.

15 10. Moreover, ^{the need for the institution of an actual civil action} the Super Priority Lien can exist only if an "action" is instituted by the 16 association to enforce its General Statutory Lien. ^{In order to enforce the Super Priority Lien can be obtained if the} The term "action" as used in NRS
17 116.3116(2) (as opposed to the term "action" as contained in NRS §116.3116(1)), does 18 not mean a "civil action" as that phrase is defined in NRCP 2 and NRCP 3 (i.e., 19 "action" as used in NRS §116.3116(2) does not mean the filing of a complaint with 20 the court).

7 WHEREAS Plaintiff, the Class and the Defendant, the contesting parties hereto, are clearly 8 adverse and hold different views regarding the meaning and applicability of NRS §116.3116; and

9 WHEREAS Plaintiff and the Class, and the Defendant have a legal interest in the controversy
10 as it is Plaintiff's and the Class' property that is the subject of Defendant's Super Priority Lien and 11 all parties, therefore, have a legal interest in a determination of to what extent the Super Priority Lien 12 can exist; and

13 WHEREAS the issue of the meaning, application and interpretation of NRS §116.3116 is 14 ripe for determination in this case as the present controversy is real, it exists now, and it affects the 15 parties hereto; and

16 WHEREAS, therefore, the Court finds that issuing a declaratory judgment relating to the 17 meaning and interpretation of NRS §116.3116 would terminate some of the uncertainty and 22 and obtain a declaration of rights, status or other legal relations thereunder.

24 follows:

- 25 1. Plaintiff's and the Class' MOTION FOR SUMMARY JUDGMENT ON CLAIM OF 26 DECLARATORY RELIEF is granted.
- 27 2. Defendant's COUNTER-MOTION FOR SUMMARY JUDGMENT is denied.

- 1 3. NRS §116.3116(1) is a statute which creates for the benefit of Nevada homeowners'
2 associations a statutory lien against a homeowner's unit for (a) any construction penalty that 3 is imposed against the unit's owner pursuant to NRS §116.310305, (b) any assessment levied 4 against that unit, and (c) any fines imposed against the unit's owner from the time the 5 construction penalty, assessment or fine becomes due (the "General Statutory Lien").
- 6 4. Pursuant to NRS §116.3116(2), the homeowners' association's General Statutory Lien is 7 junior to a first security interest on the unit recorded before the date on which the assessment 8 sought to be enforced became delinquent ("First Security Interest") except for a portion of 9 the homeowners' association's General Statutory Lien which remains superior to the First 10 Security Interest (the "Super Priority Lien").
- 11 5. Defendant, as a Nevada homeowners' association, therefore, has a Super Priority Lien which 12 has payment priority over the First Security Interest on a homeowners' unit. However, the 13 Super Priority Lien amount is not without limits and NRS §116.3116(2) is clear that the 14 amount of the Super Priority Lien (that portion of the General Statutory Lien which retains 15 a priority payment status over the First Security Interest) is limited "to the extent" of a 16 homeowners' association's assessments for common expenses based upon the association's 17 periodic budget that would have become due, in the absence of acceleration, in the 9 month
18 period immediately preceding Defendant's institution of an action to enforce its General 19 Statutory Lien (which is 9 months of regular, common assessments) and "to the extent of"
20 external repair costs pursuant to NRS §116.310312 unless regulations adopted by the Federal 21 Home Loan Mortgage Corporation or the Federal National Mortgage Association require a 22 shorter period of priority for the lien.
- 23 6. The base assessment figure used in the calculation of the Super Priority Lien is the unit's 24 un-accelerated, monthly assessment figure for association common expenses which is wholly 25 determined by the homeowners association's "periodic budget," as adopted by the 26 association, and not determined by any other document or statute. Thus, the phrase contained 27 in NRS §116.3116(2) which states, "... to the extent of the assessments for common expenses 28

1 based on the periodic budget adopted by the association pursuant to NRS 116.3115 which 2 would have become due in the absence of acceleration during the 9 months immediately
3 preceding institution of an action to enforce the lien..." means a maximum figure equaling
4 9 months of an association's regular, monthly (not annual) assessments. If assessments are 5 paid quarterly, then 3 quarters of assessments (i.e., 9 months) would equal the Super Priority
6 Lien, plus external repair costs pursuant to NRS §116.310312.

7 7. The words "to the extent of" contained in NRS §116.3116(2) mean "no more than," which 8 clearly indicates a maximum figure or a cap on the Super Priority Lien which cannot be 9 exceeded.

10 8. Thus, while assessments, penalties, fees, charges, late charges, fines and interest may be 11 included within the Super Priority Lien, in no event can the total amount of the Super Priority
12 Lien exceed an amount equaling 9 months of the Defendant's regular monthly assessment 13 amount to unit owners for common expenses based on the periodic budget which would have 14 become due immediately preceding the association's institution of an action to enforce the 15 lien, plus external repair costs pursuant to NRS 116.310312.

16 9. In addition to the arguments of counsel contained in the briefs on file, in rendering this 17 decision, the Court considered all exhibits appended to such all briefs, including but not 18 limited to law review articles, the legislative history of NRS 116.3116, the history of the 19 Uniform Common Interest Ownership Act, intermediate appellate and supreme court case
20 law of other states, and the Commission on Common-Interest Communities & Condominium 21 Hotels' Advisory Opinion which opined that a homeowners' association may collect as a part 22 of the Super Priority Lien interest, late fees or charges, and the costs of collecting, but did
23 not directly opine upon the issue of whether there was a maximum limit to the Super Priority
24 Lien regardless of the constituent elements thereof, which was the question before this Court.

25 10. While the Court considered all such supporting materials, the Court is bound by the 26 precedent of the Nevada Supreme Court which directs trial courts that, "[W]here a statute is 27 clear on its face, a court may not go beyond the language of the statute in determining the 28

1 legislature's intent." Diaz v. Eighth Judicial Dist. Court ex rel. County of Clark, 116 Nev. 88, 2 94, 993 P.2d 50 (2000).

3 11. The Court finds that NRS 116.3116 is clear on its face. After the foreclosure by a first 4 security interest on a unit recorded before the date on which the assessment sought to be 5 enforced became delinquent, a portion of a homeowners' association's statutory lien under 6 NRS 116.3116(1) is prior to the first security interest only to the extent of any charges
7 incurred by the association on a unit pursuant to NRS 116.310312 (exterior repair costs) and 8 only to the extent of the assessments for common expenses which are based on the periodic 9 budget adopted by the association pursuant to NRS 116.3115 which would have become due 10 in the absence of acceleration during the 9 months immediately preceding institution of an 11 action to enforce the lien, unless federal regulations adopted by the Federal Home Loan
12 Mortgage Corporation or the Federal National Mortgage Association require a shorter period
13 of priority for the lien. The 9 month figure is derived by taking the monthly assessment 14 figure for common expenses as contained in the association's periodic budget which existed 15 immediately prior to the association's institution of an action to enforce its lien, and 16 multiplying by 9.

17 12. Prior to the October 1, 2009, amendment increasing the Super Priority Lien, the maximum 18 amount of the Super Priority Lien was limited to the extent of the assessments for common
19 expenses which are based on the periodic budget adopted by the association pursuant to NRS
20 116.3115 which would have become due in the absence of acceleration during the 6 months
21 immediately preceding institution of an action to enforce the lien, unless federal regulations
22 adopted by the Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corporation or the Federal National Mortgage 23 Association require a shorter period of priority for the lien.

Plaintiff Elkhorn Community Association's ("Plaintiff" or "Association") Motion for Declaratory Relief came on for hearing on February 16, 2011, in Department 2 before the

1 Honorable Valorie J. Vega, Judge, presiding. The motion was heard on the Court's chambers 2 calendar.

3 The matter was originally calendared for hearing on the Court's chambers calendar on 4 January 5, 2011. On December 30, 2010, the Court received a motion from counsel for 5 Defendant Mortgage Electronic Registration Systems, Inc. ("Defendant"), requesting 6 permission to file a Sur-Reply to Plaintiff's original Reply on the grounds that Plaintiff's 7 Reply raised new issues. The Court granted Defendant's motion, continued the hearing on 8 this matter until January 26, 2011, and ordered Defendant's Sur-Reply to be filed by January 9 19, 2011. No Sur-Reply was filed by the January 19, 2011 deadline. The Court then received 10 a Motion to Extend Time to File Sur-Reply from Defendant's counsel, claiming that he had 11 never received the Court's Order granting Defendant permission to file a Sur-Reply, and 12 requesting an extension to file. The Court granted the relief requested and continued the 13 hearing to February 16, 2011 on the Court's chambers calendar.¹

14 The Court now issues the following ORDER GRANTING PLAINTIFF'S MOTION
15 FOR DECLARATORY RELIEF:

16 Question No. 1: Does the Association have the right to bring a judicial foreclosure
17 action before a court of proper jurisdiction in Nevada to satisfy the Association's special 18 priority portion of a lien for assessments authorized by NRS 116.3116 ("SPL")?

19 Answer to Question No. 1: Yes. The Court finds that the Association has the right to 20 bring a judicial foreclosure action before a court of proper jurisdiction in Nevada to satisfy the 21 SPL pursuant to NRS Chapters 40 and 116 and as authorized by the Association's governing

24
25 26 27
28
¹ Subsequent moving papers were filed by both parties after the Court granted relief on Defendant's Motion to Extend Time to File Sur-Reply. Plaintiff filed a short Opposition to Defendant's Sur-Reply, which Defendant moved to strike. Defendant's Motion to Strike was denied by the Court's minute order dated March 23, 2011.

1 documents ("CC&Rs"), so long as the assessments at issue were for common expenses based 2 on the periodic budget adopted by the Association pursuant to NRS 116.3116(2)(c).

3 Question No. 2: If the Association has the right to bring a judicial foreclosure action
4 to satisfy its SPL in Nevada, are the non-attorney fees and costs of collection accrued by the 5 Association to bring the judicial foreclosure action considered a component part of the 6 Association's SPL?

8 Answer to Question No. 2: Yes. The Court finds that the non-attorney fees and costs 9 of collection accrued by the Association to bring a judicial foreclosure action in Nevada to 10 satisfy its SPL are a component part of the Association's SPL. Moreover, the Court
11 concludes that attorney's fees accrued by the Association to bring a judicial foreclosure action 12 in Nevada to satisfy its SPL are also considered to be a component part of the Association's 13 SPL. Any attorney's fees considered to be part of the Association's SPL must be 14 "reasonable" pursuant to the Association's governing documents, specifically Article 6, 15 Section 6.1.
17

18 IT IS SO ORDERED that Plaintiff's Motion for Declaratory Relief is GRANTED.

ORDER AND JUDGMENT

Date: April 7, 2011
Time: 9:00 a.m.

28 Defendant Nevada Association Service, Inc.'s Motion for Determination of Priority Amount Including Attorney's Fees and Costs ("Motion") came on for rehearing on April 7, 2011. Debra L.
Pieruschka, Esq. of Martin & Allison Ltd. appeared on behalf of Nevada Association Services, Inc.
("NAS"), Jason D. Smith, Esq. of Santoro, Driggs, Walch, Kearney, Holley & Thompson appeared on behalf of JP Morgan Chase Bank ("Chase"), and no other party or counsel having appeared at the 1 rehearing of this matter. The Court having reviewed the moving papers, opposition papers and reply

2 papers submitted by counsel and hearing oral argument, good cause appearing, the Court issued a 3 decision on April 8, 2011, and enters the following findings of fact and conclusions of law:

4 FINDINGS OF FACT & CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

5 1. On August 27, 2010, this Court issued an order denying Chase's Motion for Summary
6 Judgment and granting NAS's Countermotion for Summary Judgment in part, determining that NAS
7 has a "super priority" position for no more than nine (9) months of assessments senior to Chase's 8 equitable lien finding that:

9 a. The Property at issue in this matter is part of a common-interest ownership 10 community. As such, NRS 116 governs the priority of NAS's lien over Chase's equitable lien.

11 b. NRS 116.3116(1) establishes NAS's statutory right to a lien for any assessments 12 from the time they become due.

13 c. Pursuant to NRS 116.3116, recording of the Declaration by the Association 14 constitutes record notice and perfection of the lien -- no further recordation of any claim of lien is 15 required.

16 d. NRS 116.3116(2) establishes the priority of NAS's liens against the Property.
17 Specifically, NRS 116.3116(2) provides that NAS's lien is prior to all other liens and encumbrances 18 except:

19 (1) a lien or encumbrance recorded prior to the recording of the Declaration 20 of the association;

21 (2) a first security interest recorded before the date on which the assessment 22 sought to be enforced became delinquent; and 23 (3) liens for real estate taxes and other governmental assessments.

24 e. NRS 116.3116(2) further provides NAS with a limited priority even over a first 25 security interest recorded against the property for nine (9) months of assessments that would have 26 become due immediately preceding institution of an action to enforce the lien.

27 f. Chase's equitable lien attached to the property on August 9, 2007 when its Deed
28 of Trust was recorded against the property.

MARTIN & ALLISON LTD.
3191 E. Warm Springs Road
Las Vegas, Nevada 89120-3147

1 2. The Court further directed NAS to submit further briefing to the Court to determine the 2 extent and amount of NAS' "super priority" lien that it has against the subject property, including the 3 issue of attorney's fees and costs.

4 3. After briefing by both parties, on September 16, 2010 this Court held oral arguments
5 regarding the amount of NAS' "super priority" lien amount and granted NAS' Motion in part and 6 denied it in part.

7 4. The Court found that pursuant to NRS 116.3116(2) an association has a "super priority"
8 position over a first security interest recorded against the property for nine (9) months of assessments
9 immediately preceding institution of an action to enforce the lien.

10 5. The Court further found that pursuant to NRS 116.310313 an association can recover as 11 part of its collection costs reasonable attorney's fees and costs associated with enforcement of its 12 assessment lien. The Court noted, however, that an analysis must be performed by the Court to 13 determine the reasonableness of the attorney's fees using the factors articulated in Brunzell v. Gold 14 Gate National Bank, 85 Nev. 345, 349 (1969).

15 6. The Court further found that pursuant to NRS 116.3116(2) an association can recover as 16 part of its "super priority" lien amount collection costs associated with enforcement of its assessment 17 lien.

18 7. As such, the Court granted NAS' Motion, in part, and awarded, as part of its "super 19 priority" lien amount pursuant to NRS 116.3116(2), NAS $5,909.91 out of the $23,480.16 requested in 20 delinquent assessments. The Court further awarded, as part of its "super priority" lien amount pursuant 21 to NRS 116.3116(2), NAS $6,000.00 out of the $49,035.28 for reasonable attorney's fees and costs as 22 part of its collection costs.

23 8. The Court, however, denied NAS the following requested portions of its "super priority"
24 lien amount because it failed to provide adequate documentation to support the claim:

25 (a) $135.00 out of the total amount of $525.00 in late fees relating to the nine (9)
26 months of delinquent assessments as permitted by NRS 116.3116;

27 (b) $1,352.00 for collection costs related to the nine (9) months of delinquent 28 assessments as permitted by NRS 116.310313 and NRS 116.3116; and

1 (c) $43,035.28 in legal fees as part of its collection costs related to the collection of 2 the "super priority" amount as permitted by NRS 116.310313 and NRS 116.3116.

3 9. On October 28, 2010, NAS filed a Motion for Partial Reconsideration of the Court's 4 October 4, 2010 Order denying NAS its full collection costs including attorney's fees and costs
5 pursuant to NRS 116.3116.

6 10. After supplemental briefing by the parties, on February 17, 2011, the Court granted
7 NAS' Motion for Partial Reconsideration.

8 11. On April 7, 2011, after further supplemental briefing by the parties, the Court entertained 9 oral arguments by Counsel.

10 12. The Court concluded that NAS can recover as part of its "super priority" its costs
11 associated with enforcement of the Association's assessment lien including late fees and collection 12 costs pursuant to NRS 116.3116(1) and (2).

13 13. The Court found that NAS properly supported its claim for $135.00 in late fees relating 14 to the nine (9) months of delinquent assessments, pursuant to NRS 116.3116(1).

15 14. The Court further found that NAS properly supported its claim for $1,352.00 in 16 collection costs relating to the nine (9) months of delinquent assessments but disallowed $743.00 of the 17 requested $1,352.00 because $743.00 related to costs incurred by NAS after the lawsuit was filed to 18 enforce any past due obligation and are, thus, precluded by statute.

19 153. The Court further found that NAS properly supported its claim for $49,035.28 in 20 attorney's fees and costs through August 27, 2010 comprised of $1,635.28 in costs and $47,400.00 in 21 attorney's fees in defending and protecting its statutory right to an assessment lien, pursuant to NRS 22 116.3116(7).

23 16. NAS's documented attorney's fees in the amount of $47,400.00 meet the Brunzell v.
24 Golden Gate National Bank, 85 Nev. 345, 349 (1969) factors. That based on the qualities of the 25 advocate, the character of the work to be done, the work actually performed by the lawyer, and the 26 result obtained, the amount of attorney's fees and costs to be included as part of NAS' collection costs 27 relating to its "super priority" lien amount are reasonable and necessary.

Dear Mr. Foletta:

In furtherance of our discussion regarding SB 174 and as promised, I wanted to expand on my analysis of and concerns with the provisions of the bill. As you know, the Federal Housing Finance Agency (FHFA) acts as regulator and conservator for Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac and has obligations that focus on preserving and conserving assets of the firms, avoiding losses and maintaining their safe and sound operations. The agency also oversees operations of the twelve Federal Home Loan Banks.

As we discussed, the provisions of the bill which relate to the collection of unpaid homeowners association (HOA) assessments raise significant issues. I would note Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac have provided for reimbursement of six months of regular common expense unpaid assessments. They do not reimburse for collection costs or attorney's fees. The comments that follow, therefore, relate primarily with specifics of the legislation, but I would note that, in general, the bill would alter practices for which the Enterprises do not provide reimbursement.

Specific observations concerning substantive provisions of SB 174 and problems with implementation of such a law, that I would hope would be of benefit to your consideration, are provided here:

First, Section 15 of the bill provides that "reasonable" attorney's fees and collection costs for collecting unpaid HOA assessments are included in a HOA's "super-priority lien" for assessments for common expenses. Experience shows that, in general, attorney's fees and collection costs are much higher than the amount of delinquent assessments and this bill would transfer such costs to servicers and potentially the Enterprises. In any event, general practice has been that homeowners who have title to the property and want to resolve claims related to the property would be required to pay attorney's fees and collection costs.

If a bill such as SB 174 were enacted, Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac servicers would be responsible for the payment of such attorney's fees and collection costs to the extent they are not paid by homeowners. Servicers might attempt to seek reimbursement from Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac, however, Enterprise seller-servicer guides prohibit reimbursing servicers for such attorney's fees and collection costs. In addition, attorney's fees and collection expenses could increase foreclosure costs and increase the costs to purchasers of homes coming to the market.

Second, with regard to capping collection fees under Section 15, the set amount of $1950 is not a true limitation as an exception exists transferring authority to homeowners associations to make a declaration to provide that a lien may exceed the statutory cap without limitation. Therefore, because the provision allows the HOA's declaration to govern over the statutory cap, but then applies the limitation to "any other amounts due the association pursuant to the governing documents," the cap may be illusory. While Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac, as noted above, would not reimburse for such collection fees, the language as reported appears to provide no firm capping of such fees in any event.

Third, Section 15 is somewhat ambiguous about the lien for collection costs. In particular, it is unclear what time frame is involved for which such collection costs would be afforded lien priority. As we discussed, Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac do not reimburse for such costs.

Finally, I would note that this measure would represent a significant change to existing law and practice and could have unintended consequences in the current market environment. Please do not hesitate to contact me if you have any questions regarding these comments; I may be reached at 202 414-3788.

With all best wishes, I am

Sincerely,
